Bonacio bldg.: 'About a dozen' signed leases; Gordon checks out apartment on the 5th floor

By Gordon Woodworth

Chronicle News Editor

The Chronicle attended the open house Sunday at 14 Hudson, Saratoga developer Sonny Bonacio's $26-million residential, office, retail project in progress next to Glens Falls Hospital.

They were showing an available two-bedroom, fifth-floor corner apartment, Unit 520, with West Mountain views and a large covered terrace. Rent is $2,210 a month plus utilities.

"We have just about a dozen signed leases," said Laura Hogan of Mr. Bonacio's West Side Management.

"The first folks should be moving in by early May."

In all, there are 87 apartments — 44 one-bedroom, 39 two-bedroom and four three-bedroom, Ms. Hogan said.

The smallest units are about

850 square feet with rents starting at $1,200 a month, and the largest are four three-bedroom units, each about 1,800 square feet, that start at $2,200. Rents don't include heat or utilities.

Much of 14 Hudson's interior is still unfinished, though one

Ed Asner's return to the Wood

By Cathy DeDe

Chronicle Arts Editor

Actor Ed Asner makes his third appearance at the Wood Theater in Glens Falls on Thursday, April 6, with a new solo show called A Man and His Prostate.

Mr. Asner, 87, previously was Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the one-man FDR at the Wood in 2010 and 2011.

Best-known for playing gruff newsroom editor Lou Grant on the ground-breaking Mary Tyler Moore Show in the 1970s, Mr. Asner has hundreds of TV and movie credits and seven Emmys to his name — more than any other male actor. He is the only actor
