Anne & Rick Fuller came up with the idea of Taste of the North Country. It became an annual project of the Kiwanis Club of Glens Falls. The Chronicle signed on as first sponsor.

Sunday, Oct. 1, 11 to 3, City Park, downtown Glens Falls.

Sample foods from 42 regional restaurants — 15 new and 17 returning — at the Glens Falls Kiwanis Club's 25th anniversary Taste of the North Country food festival this Sunday, Oct. 1, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in downtown Glens Falls in City Park, rain or shine. Admission: $5, under 18 free. Food coupons cost $1, or 25 for $20 in a "K-Pack." Servings typically are priced at one to four coupons. Details, page 2

Best fest yet?

By David Cederstrom
Chronicle Staff Writer

Mark Donahue is ecstatic. "I can't recall ever being able to wear shorts and T-shirts for the weekend morning launches!" he enthused. "Temperatures in the 80s for this event is unreal. Having light winds allowed for every launch to happen."

He noted, "It has not been a

When their roof collapsed

By Gordon Woodworth
Chronicle News Editor

Jody and Gabrielle Katz knew the roof of their 82-year-old Glens Falls home needed some work because it had on and off leaks. "But this spring we had a lot of rain, a lot of heavy downpours, and we started getting some
