Hacksaw now does comedy

By Cathy DeDe

Chronicle Managing Editor

Something new for Hacksaw Jim Duggan: The WWE pro wrestling Hall-of-Famer and Glens Falls High School football great is now touring with a one-man stand-up comedy show.

On February 2, Hacksaw — still “Moose” Duggan to locals who grew up with him in the 1960s and '70s — opens his latest tour of the Northeast with a hometown show at Sweet Basil Comedy Club on Route 9 in Queensbury.

It's called the “2x4 Tour,” a nod to Hacksaw's signature weapon in the ring.

“It's not comedy like a lot of

Backs Davidson's in server pay flap

Mark,

I read the article about Davidson's with interest. I eat there occasionally; I'm not a beer drinker, but the food is pretty good. I have no specific axe to grind, except where I perceive bullying and injus-

Ever had sciatica? No fun!

By Mark Frost

Chronicle Editor

I didn't know what sciatica is — and how many people suffer with it — until I endured a bout of it myself in December.

I felt it in my leg, while sitting at my computer, on a Tuesday night working on deadline for an issue of The Chronicle.

By the end of the evening, I was in excruciating pain, couldn't stay seated. There was no comfortable way to re-position myself.

In ensuing days, it was only when lying in bed that I felt comfortable. Standing was okay, but walking was restricted.

Mainly, though, forget sitting down — and looming for me was a cramped 10-hour non-stop New Year's flight to Israel (and a 12-hour return flight in two weeks).

Anyone to whom I mentioned my malady volunteered a fix.

Acupuncture, said Anthony.

Celebex, said Betty.

My chiropractor, advised Mau-

New Civic Center sign: High-def video & more

The Glens Falls Civic Center's $225,000 high definition LED video marquee is now operational promoting Civic Center events and looking to attract additional advertisers. Civic Center General Manager Jeff Mead said the sign “has the capability of doing videos and static ads, and we are currently doing both.” It was paid for out of a $675,000 state grant that was received by the City of Glens Falls and transferred to the Adirondack Civic Center Coalition, which now runs the building. Eversan from Utica made the sign, and Action Signs from Rensselaer “installed it and will perform the remainder of the work to cover the steel beams. This will occur within 30 days,” Mr. Mead said.
