How the country dog from Greenwich won the crown in NYC

By Gordon Woodworth & Mark Frost
Chronicle News Editor & Editor

Getting up at 4 a.m. and driving from Greenwich to New York City on Saturday, Feb. 13, proved well worth it for Wendy Cerilli and Holster, her six-year-old Australian Shepherd.

Holster won the Masters Agility Championship at the famed Westminster Dog Show at Madison Square Garden.

The agility competition, in its third year at Westminster, has each dog race an obstacle course, with jumps, tunnels, ramps and close-set vertical posts that dogs must weave their way through.

"It's a big trip," Heidi told The Chronicle. "I almost didn't go. My husband talked me into it."

Husband Dave Cerilli said, "We got up at 4 in the morning so we could get a parking space at Pier 92."

The Cerillis — who operate the ambitious High Goal Farm dog training and show facility in Greenwich — brought not just one but four of their 12 Aussies to compete, including:

- Pico, a rescue dog, who "is lightning fast, but not as fast across the big equipment like Holster. I won't push him. He would panic. I have to

Expect no move on Glens Falls' police

By Gordon Woodworth
Chronicle News Editor

Don't expect Warren County to take over Glens Falls Police Department duties anytime in the near future, despite all the talk in recent weeks and months.

City and county officials seem at a total impasse.

Meanwhile, the police department is costing city taxpayers $4-million, 23.3% of this year's $17.3-million overall budget.

Mayor Jack Diamond's newest proposal would pay the County $22.5-million over 15 years to help fund the police function the city wants the county to absorb. The Mayor says the next step is for the county to counter-offer.

But Warren County Board Chairman Kevin Geraghty told The Chronicle Tuesday that what's needed next is a detailed

Re Ice Bar photos: My fur was fake

To the Editor:

Re: Furs worn at The Ice Bar

I figured it would only be a matter of time before criticism was thrown for wearing fur at the Ice Bar. My photo was featured in one of the Chronicle issues wearing a fur coat. I would like to point out that I
