Glens Falls Mayor will quit; early election

By Gordon Woodworth
Chronicle News Editor

Glens Falls voters will go to the polls a year early. Mayor Jack Diamond's announcement Monday that he will resign on Dec. 31 means that a special election to decide his successor will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The mayor said he must resign because he'll have served the maximum eight consecutive years in office. His tenure began when he was elevated from Councilman-at-Large to mayor after the death of Roy Akins.

Two candidates — Dan Hall and Nancy (Girard) Underwood — definitely plan to run. Also

Diamond's surprise plan to resign means vote on Nov. 8

Asks: Can Christians support Trump for President?

Dear Editor:

I am confused by Christian support for Donald Trump, a man who gets some of his billions from gambling casinos. He's so boastful about his riches, yet the Bible says it's harder for a rich man to enter Heaven than to pull a camel through the eye of a needle.

Trump uses vulgarities to
