

Northern New York's Leading Newspaper • Down to earth and growing • Vol. 37, No. 1,660 • October 13-19, 2016

Jen Denis of Queensbury and daughter Tenley. Ms. Denis sells LuLaRoe fashion in 'pop-up' boutiques. Photo provided

Kate: LuLaRoe clothing is hot; local women join in selling it

By Kate Austin-Avon

Chronicle Freelance

"You look so cute today! Is that LuLaRoe?"

Marketed

through parties &

Facebook:

3 who are home

It's the standard greeting at daycare drop-off, birthday parties and play groups these days.

LuLaRoe is the latest multi-levelmarketing compa-

Project. Stu Kuby, left, is board president.

Purchase complete; grass roots effort to revive Hudson Falls shoplace

By Cathy DeDe

Chronicle Managing Editor

The Hudson River Music Hall group led by Jonathan Newell closed on purchase of the Strand Theatre in downtown Hudson Falls Friday morning, paying the Town of Kingsbury $35,000 down and financing the rest with a $140,000 loan from the Community Loan Fund of the Capital District.

'We're taking the weekend off," said Mr. Newell, the group's di-rector, as he toured the building Friday. "Tuesday we'll start with the brooms, and tearing things down."

They aim to get the place open for performances as quickly as possible. "That's what we do. It Please turn to page 11

CONTRACTOR OF A

PRST STD

20: Women Business

Phone: 518-792-1126

Public chimes in: Ideas for GF's $10million

To Whom It May Concern:

After reading the article about how to spend Glens Falls' $10 million and your statement about asking a cross section (which it wasn't) of people, it was mainly wealthy. Why didn't you ask the people on the street or senior citizens who have lived most of their lives in Glens Falls?

Letters: 'Don't just ask the wealthy and fix the sidewalks'

I did think that Elizabeth Miller and Judy Calogero are on the right track. We need some retail stores and a grocery store closer than Queensbury.

I have seen pictures of Glens Falls' main street, with lots of stores. I have visited local towns where there is shopping. I would rather shop in my own town and not travel far.

Recently I was approached on the street by a visiting couple from Long Island who asked where our Visitor's Center is and shopping areas? I directed them to City Hall, not a very impressive place, where there was some information.

ny that's trending unving. (think Mary Kay, Pampered Chef and Jamberry). LuLaRoe's flagship product is "buttery soft" leggings, which, Please turn to page 8

Broadway Upstate sets 'Legally Blonde Jr.' this week at the Wood ► 29

We definitely do not need any-

Please turn to page 10

