Schermerhorn: 'We had front-row seats to history' with Donald Trump

By Gordon Woodworth
Chronicle News Editor

Rich Schermerhorn, the Queensbury developer, flew Donald Trump surrogates to rallies around the country in his private jet in the week before the historic Nov. 8 election.

And at the President-elect's victory speech Tuesday night in New York City, Mr. Schermerhorn, his wife Beth and best friend Brett West, a Queensbury native who now lives in Connecticut, had prime seats.

Mr. Schermerhorn called the whole experience "absolutely epic. We had invitations and needed to have ID, but one of us forgot the ID, so Janet Huckabee [wife of former Arkansas Governor Mike Huckabee] walked in with us and vouched for us. We had brought the Huckabees to

New York City."

Mrs. Schermerhorn said "Janet Huckabee helped us navigate through the night. She's the one who helped us stake out spots in front for Mr. Trump's victory speech."

"He will turn this country around. There is no doubt in my

Larry Bulman worked hard for Hillary: His viewpoint now

By Mark Frost
Chronicle Editor

Larry Bulman, 50, was all-in for Hillary Clinton.

As national Director of Legislative and Political Affairs for the United Association union of plumbers and pipefitters, the South Glens Falls resident says that "from Labor Day to Election Day I was in Virginia" working full-time for Mrs. Clinton.

"At Labor Day," he says, "I had more doors closing in my face than I would have liked. But then in northern Virginia [as the weeks wore on], I felt like I was in Manhattan almost," support for her was so strong.

Mr. Bulman, who has known Mrs. Clinton well since her days as New York's U.S. Senator, said

Dr. Tedesco: Vote result 'saddest day' since the Civil War; wants Michelle to run

Dear Mark -

For me, and I'm sure for many others, Wednesday, November 9, 2016 (11/9) was the saddest day in the history of our country since the Civil War.

Sadder even than Pearl Harbor, the JFK assassination or 9/11. Those events united us as a people.

Sadness not that Hillary had lost, but that Trump won and
