New Dog at the New Way

By Gordon Woodworth
 Chronicle News Editor

New Way Lunch, the 99-year-old Glens Falls icon known for its "Dirty John's" hot dogs, now has its own brand of hot dog made exclusively for them in Troy.

"Our new hot dogs are fresher, never frozen, made weekly and better for you," said Nick Gazetos, a fourth generation restaurant family member who oversees the New Way Lunch on South Street.

"There is no high fructose corn syrup, no artificial sweeteners, no fillers, and less preservatives."

Nick's sister Ali Gazetos Mineo manages the Queensbury New Way Lunch on Upper Glen Street. Their mother Susan runs New Way Lunch's third restaurant, in Warrensburg.

Husband/father Peter Gazetos, whose grandfather John Floro started New Way Lunch in Glens Falls in 1919, weighs in on the whole operation.

Peter says the new hot dogs "are very similar to the ones we served back in the 1960s from Pleasant Valley in Schenectady. We've changed hot dogs three times in the 50 years I've been involved."

He said of the newest change: "We were having issues with our

Patti Gray Whann backs neighbor in GF assessment fight

Editor,
 Having read my neighbor's letter to The Chronicle [Nov. 15] and the great article by Gordon Woodworth following it up [Nov. 21], I thought I should chime in.

My neighbor, Bert Hoenigmann, contacted me after he was notified of his increased assessment this past spring. As a broker/owner of a real estate office in Glens Falls, I

How Cathy liked Gilbert Gottfried

By Cathy DeDe
 Chronicle Managing Editor

Gilbert Gottfried is like a cross between Peter Falk's bumbling detective Columbo and the dry-witted old comedian George Burns. If you're not old enough to get the references to these deceased personalities — that would be most of the roughly 200 people at Mr. Gottfried's show at the Wood Theater last Saturday night — Gottfried combines a creaky,
