Garrow's niece was executed for Texas murder

Dear Ms. DeDe,

I very much enjoyed your article about the recently released film about Robert Garrow.

There is something interesting in connection with Robert Garrow, something you may possibly already be aware of, but if not, I thought I would pass this on to you. I will mention here that I research things like this all the time and have for years.

His sister's daughter & grandson both killers

Are you familiar with Schenectady native Suzanne Basso (1954-2014)? She was one of six co-defendants convicted in the August 1998 torture and murder of 59-year old Louis "Buddy" Musso, a mentally

Thanks from actor who played Garrow; 'I enjoy your smart weekly paper'

To the Editor:

Thank you so much, Mark Frost, for the positive and 'made my day!' words regarding my performance as Robert Garrow, in the film Garrow. It takes a village, indeed. Your review was very insightful and spot-on thoughtful. Sincere thanks.

P.S. REALLY enjoy your comprehensive and smart weekly paper.

Bud Gates quips: In 1964 I made Joseph Girard's 69-point record possible!

Editor's note: Bolton native Bud Gates, now of Wichita, took special pleasure in Joseph Girard's Section II record-setting 69 points Friday night as Glens Falls beat Schuylerville, 98-83. He shared the following letter with friends. It made its way to The Chronicle.

Bud Gates wrote (tongue in cheek, to his friends): Joe Girard broke the long-standing scoring record the other night, scoring 69 points. He's averaging 49 points per game....shattered all of Jimmer's records at GF....going to Syracuse. If you read the article....broke the record of 67 set by Rich Campoli of St. Joseph of Albany in 1964.

St Joseph LOST that game to some pissant school in the toolies called Bolton Landing. What a game it was! Cobber Pratt and I both went off for about 30 points...Gary Ryder chipped in another 20...and we won 98 to 95. We had played a zone all game, it was all we knew. With about 20 seconds to go and the game tied I huddled the team on the floor and said....let's go man to man. I took Campoli and stopped him. Thus.....it was my defensive gem that kept Campoli from scoring 69 that night. Girard....you owe me! Otherwise, you only just TIED the record!

— Bud Gates, Wichita, Kansas

Another note: Bud, who still summers in Bolton, owns Pizza Hut and Rent-A-Center franchises locally and is a past CEO of Rent-A-Center and senior vice-president of Pizza Hut.

Getting a handle on Brian Bronzino

By Gordon Woodworth

Chronicle News Editor

Brian Bronzino, the 24-year-old Brooklynite who's been on a real estate buying spree in Glens Falls in recent months, is something of a mystery man. We've kept trying without success to interview him.

But we finally were able to get some information this week when he heard that he is friends with Robin Barkenhagen, who owns 42° art glass gallery on Park Street. Mr. Barkenhagen encouraged us to send our questions via e-mail, which we did.

He says Mr. Bronzino "had a gut feeling about Glens Falls" when he arrived on a Trailways bus last fall. "He said the people were very inviting...He didn't
