

Revolution Rail buying North Creek-Tahawus 30-mile railway

By Mark Frost
Chronicle Editor

Revolution Rail, which pioneered a railbike business launched in North Creek that it has since taken national, is buying the North Creek to Tahawus rail line.

The price is $2.7-million.

Revolution Rail finished second at a bankruptcy auction in March when it tried to buy the 30-mile rail line for recreational and freight use, but the high bidder — Doc N Dutchess Rails LLC — failed to make the required down payment.

Revolution Rail stepped up. "We have an approved purchase agreement," Edward LaScala, Revolution Rail's Director of Operations, told The Chronicle on Thursday, June 2.

William Brandt, who has overseen the sale, confirmed the Bankruptcy Court okayed the deal. "I think it's a great outcome. It's a win win" that he said is sensitive both to forest protection and maintenance of the railroad for freight use creating industry job opportunities.

Mr. LaScala said, "We believe in the environment and we believe in the economy. We're committed to both those things at once — that's what's been missing."

What remains is for New York State and the U.S. Department of Transportation's Surface Transportation Board to sign off, which is anticipated imminently.

"We hope it's a this-month event," said Mr. LaScala. "We

If you're planning to fly...

By Mark Frost

If you're flying someplace this summer, best not to be on too tight or rigid a timetable.

Too many delays. Too many cancellations. Too many things going awry.

I'm talking from first-hand experience. We flew back on Delta from England on Friday, May 27, Memorial Day weekend.

Everything was hunky dory as we crossed "the pond" from London, landing on time in Atlanta.

Plenty of time to move through the international terminal, re-enter the U.S. through customs, retrieve and recheck our luggage, as required, and go to the gate for our 9:40 Albany flight

Alas, we were on time but Delta wasn't. The Departure screen said our flight was 30 minutes late. Then an hour. Then at around 11 came the

Mark,

Daniel Pratt here. Last year I did not update you about the boats hitting the rocks out in front of Isom Bay [on Lake George, just north of Echo Bay]. I kind of gave up on the whole idea of trying to get it fixed.

But you have got to hear this: today [Sunday, May 29] is my first day at our camp this year. Additional buoys have been added, but none in front of the rocks hidden under the water. Two are out-

HEAD

Max Yurenda,
Double H chief since its start, to retire

Max Yurenda, the only CEO the Double H Ranch in Lake Luzerne has ever had, announced he will retire next March after 30 years at the helm.

"Double H officially opened its doors on July 4, 1993 and has served over 80,000 children dealing with life-threatening illnesses from around the world all completely Free of Charge," said a Double H press release. "It was the second 'Hole in the Wall Camp' in what has become a worldwide network of not-for-profit recreational and therapeutic experiences for children with serious illness."

Mr. Yurenda was quoted: "I am incredibly proud of this organization and the impact we have made. I am humbled and grateful for having this opportunity to witness the power and magic of the Double H experience that will continue to flourish into the future."

Charlene Wood, a Double H Board Member and trustee of the Charles R. Wood Foundation, was quoted:

"Max...was selected as CEO by my dad, Charles R. Wood, as he saw the potential in Max and knew he could carry out the dream and goals he had for this local camp modeled after Paul Newman's Hole in the Wall Camp in CT.

"Max's leadership skills have made Double H Ranch a star in the Serious Fun Children's Network. He will be greatly missed but I know he will leave the camp in the hands of a great team he has cultivated over his many years of service."

Double H Ranch encompasses 320 acres of land with waterfront access to Lake Vanare. Its cabins can accommodate 126 campers, 125 staff and 50 volunteers. "Program areas include an indoor and outdoor pool, a high ropes course, archery, horseback riding and pasture, picnic pavilion, stage area, dining hall, arts & crafts, ski lodge and two winter ski and snowboard slopes."

Among highlights cited in Mr. Yurenda's "30-year illustrious career":

- Creating a formal partnership with the Children's Hospital at Albany Medical Center in the Fall of 1993.
- Forming a strong and dedicated

2022 TOYOTA COROLLA CROSS

June 13: Public update on GF's South St. plans by Mayor & Sonny Bonacio

By Cathy DeDe
Chronicle Managing Editor

On Monday, June 13, Mayor Bill Collins and developer Sonny Bonacio will present their plans for the South Street-Elm Street overhaul and the Market Center that are core to Glens Falls's use of the $10 million Downtown Revitalization Initiative grant awarded in 2016 by then-Gov. Andrew Cuomo.

The Monday, June 13, meetings will take place from noon to 2 p.m. at Crandall Public Library and from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Park Theater.

"Even without the parking garage," Mayor Collins said, referring to controversial plans for the Elm Street lot (see separate box), "we are looking at $38 million in development."

"South Street is the last major corridor of Glens Falls to be upgraded. It's why we got the DRI money to begin with."

The mayor said they hope to bring the DRI projects in July to the Planning Board, which typically meets the first Tuesday of the month, thus July 5.

The centerpiece is the Market Center to be built by the City where the OTB parlor stood. It will house the Glens Falls Farmer's Market and an events center.

Designed by Envision Architects of Troy, the Market Center is proposed as an open air building shaped like a birch leaf and featuring hinged, slotted "walls" that can lift up as shades in the warm months or be lowered as protection from the elements in winter. There would be a performance stage in the back south corner of the lot, delivery access for trucks, and landscaping that takes the place of the prior "pocket park" DRI plan.

Mr. Bonacio, of Saratoga Springs, selected by Glens Falls to develop much of the DRI project, plans to construct or redevelop five buildings, under the entity "Spring City Development of Glens Falls." Mr. Bonacio's projects are:

- 46 Elm Street: Purchase and renovate the white long-vacant warehouse building once envisioned as a business incubator. It will connect with the Market Center, adding flexible indoor vendor and events space and commercial kitchen on the first floor.
- Hot Shots: Purchase and renovate the former bar for mixed residential-office-commercial use.
- Sandy's Clam Bar: Renovate building that Mr. Bonacio bought separately, not as part of the DRI, also for mixed use.
- New mixed use building: At the front of the current Farmers Market-parking

Board of Directors to lead the strategic direction of the organization.

- Strengthening financial sustainability for the organization.
- Encouraging an all-inclusive and welcoming environment that promotes an "I can do it" attitude.
- Establishing a reputation of excellence in the community and NFP sector.
- Leading a successful inaugural capital campaign for the organization with the completion of numerous capital improvements to enhance the accessibility and experience for all.
- Pivoting the organization throughout the COVID Pandemic and successfully providing alternative and virtual programs for our campers and families.

When The Chronicle interviewed Mr. Yurenda five years ago for a special section marking Double-H's 25th Anniversary, he said the camp's launch in 1993 was "a true roll of the dice. What we were leading with was passion and heart."

Rachel's Spice Cafe to close

Chronicle Staff Writer Zander Frost writes: Rachel Dutra, who operates Rachel's Spice Company & Cafe on Warren Street in Glens Falls with her husband Dave, announced on Facebook Live that she will close the cafe as of June 25.

She said they plan to focus on their seasonal businesses in Lake George, and in the off-season she will become the "spice and tea lady," with a Youtube channel and online store.

"There's no need for a eulogy here," she said. "In fact, it's quite the opposite. Somebody gets to live...That's me."

Ms. Dutra said, "I could sit here and I could tell you that it's the cost of goods, it's the Covid crisis that we, I think, kind-a made it through..."

"I could tell you that it's the economic crisis that we're in right now; I'm about to go put gas in my little tiny car, it's going to cost me about 80 dollars."

"I can tell you that business has declined, because it has, because nobody has any money right now because everything costs so much."

"But in reality, it's just me. I can't pour from an empty cup. And my cup has run out. I've been doing restaurants for 16 years and I just don't have it in me anymore. And you guys deserve better."

Ms. Dutra said she plans to convert the cafe kitchen into a "commissary kitchen" to "help people when they're just getting started."

Rachael Ray, the Lake George native who is host of the nationally syndicated Rachael Ray Show, gave Rachel's Spice huge boosts in Internet sales in the past half-year touting Rachel's "loaded salt and pepper" and other products. (Chronicle, Jan. 28, 2022.)

Canoe Island Lodge for sale: $11.9-million

The Canoe Island Lodge on the west shore of Lake George is for sale for $11.9-million, reported The Albany Business Review Tuesday.

It said the price is $9-million for its mainland property that includes 472 feet of lake front and 25,000 square feet of lodging. The 2.7-acre Canoe Island itself is priced at $2.9-million.

It's listed by Davies-Davies & Associates Real Estate LLC, said the Business Review.

Scoop: Be travel ready...

the bum-out. Flight cancelled. No getting out tonight.

At 8 a.m. on Saturday morning in Glens Falls I was supposed to have breakfast with a college classmate I hadn't seen in literally 50 years, just before they left for Iowa. Texted my regrets. “Wasn’t meant to be,” said I.

Delta made a slew of cancellations. On Saturday they cancelled more than 250 flights, 9% of the schedule.

They didn’t announce our cancellation. It was posted as a line of type on the Departures monitor.

A vanguard of thwarted passengers — no doubt experienced in these situations — high-tailed it three gates over to what turned out to be the customer service counters. We scurried in pursuit.

The line initially extended across the main lobby of the terminal. Personnel ordered us to reassemble so that we stretched the other way, down the Delta lane.

We ended up waiting in this line for two-and-a-half hours. And we were fairly close to the front. I looked at what must have been 100 to 150 people in line behind us (maybe from cancellations besides our own) and realized they’d probably be waiting until 2 or 3 a.m.

The mood was pretty calm considering what a pain it was. In my case, I mean literal pain. Standing in one place for hours makes my back ache.

Only one thing saved me. The Baltimore Orioles.

I was checking on my MLB App the score of the O’s game against the Boston Red Sox. We were losing 8 to 2 going into the seventh inning.

Then we scored 3 runs in the seventh inning. Now I resumed following the play-by-play. We scored 3 runs in the eighth inning! The game was tied! Then we scored 4 runs in the ninth inning and won 12-8. Miraculously my back didn’t hurt anymore!

Sandy, meanwhile, as usual, focused on the matter at hand, utilizing the well-chosen apps on her iPhone.

Advice: Have a smart phone and know how to put it to best use. Travel is becoming impossible without it.

Delta texted a voucher for a free hotel night and food credit. Sandy pounced on that, scoring us a room at the Airport Marriott, with 24-hour shuttle service.

We got friendly with a couple from Clifton Park just behind us in line. They weren’t as up-to-speed app-wise and didn’t know to grab the room immediately.

The only time a Delta employee actually spoke to our crowd was when one came out and warned us that you’d best act right now, that the hotel rooms run out.

Another person who was trying to get to Albany, whom we’d spoken to earlier when we still had hope our plane would leave, was flying up from Florida to work

Memorial Day weekend at the Chateau in Bolton.

People ahead of us in line who managed finally to get to the service counter came away shaking their heads.

No sure seats to Albany on Saturday with Delta.

Sandy turned to her Southwest Airlines app. She found a way for us to get home Saturday by flying from Atlanta to Fort Myers, Florida, then switching to a plane that stopped in Orlando and then flew to Albany.

Sandy had enough points built up in her Southwest account that we didn’t have to pay any of the $900 price. She grabbed the last two available seats.

Our place in line finally reached the Delta rep. He wanted us to sign up for stand-by on Saturday morning. Delta would comp us another hotel night. He could only guarantee us a seat if we waited and flew Sunday.

The Saturday stand-by didn’t interest us at all. There’s no way there’d be a seat available.

We asked the Delta rep if we could get back the luggage that we’d already checked. “No,” he said, but he said it would be on the Saturday morning Delta flight to Albany. We could retrieve it at the Delta office near the conveyors at baggage claim.

Southwest delivered us on time to Albany. The sun, low in the sky, breaking through clouds, made a spectacular arrival. (That’s my photo at right.)

The airport was quiet, largely empty. The Delta luggage office was closed. Sandy went and, amazingly, found a helpful Delta staffer. Delta had texted that one of our bags, mine, got on the Saturday morning flight. The other two were bumped.

The Delta staffer opened the office and really tried to find my bag. It wasn’t there.

It turned out none of our bags made it out of Atlanta on Saturday. They all came up on Sunday. Delta delivered them to our house in Glens Falls by courier.

Now Sandy is trying to get Delta to refund our money for the flight to Albany. They’ve initially only offered us points to use on a future flight. She also wants them to cover the cost of our Southwest flight that she spent so many of our Southwest credits on. Today, Tuesday, Sandy finally got to speak to a human being at Delta.

What’s been most disappointing is how poorly Delta has communicated throughout the whole process. No human contact, no explaining what’s going on.

Sure, they’re understaffed. So is everybody. Do better. But as a traveler, be ready for anything. Society is breaking down, and air travel right along with it.

U.S. Women’s Open pro Bowling in SGF

Kingpin’s Alley Family Fun Center in South Glens Falls will host the U.S. Women’s Open — the Professional Women’s Bowling Association’s second major event of the year — beginning Tuesday, June 14, and continuing through Tuesday, June 21.

“This is the first time since 1973 this event has been in the State of New York. The week-long event culminates with one bowler winning $60,000 live on CBS Sports Network on the final day,” said a Lake George Chamber of Commerce press release.

Doug Bohannon, owner of Kingpin’s Alley and the president of the NYS Bowling Proprietor’s Association, was quoted:

“Bowling enthusiasts throughout the Northeast are beyond excited to have the opportunity to watch these athletes in person. We have a very large league bowling base in the Capital Region, and we continue to bring substantial tournaments to this area to provide our bowlers the chance to watch or even participate at a competitive level”.

The tournament features “108 of the best women bowlers from all over the world competing for one of the most prestigious championships in the sport.”

“All qualifying and match-play rounds in the U.S. Women’s Open will be available to watch on BowlTV.com. The step-ladder finals will be broadcast live on CBS Sports Network on June 21.”

Spectators are welcome. Kingpin’s Alley also seeks volunteers to assist.

Tickets for the televised final rounds range from $30 bleacher and $50 premium to $20 standing room only.

Tickets for practice and qualifying rounds and match play range from $10 for a single practice event to $100 for a week-long ticket.

The PWBA will also offer a “Bowl with the Pros” night on June 14, where anyone, regardless of skill level, can have the chance to bowl with a several of these great professional athletes. Cost: $60-$80.

Tickets for all sessions can be purchased online by visiting: kingpinsalley.com. Interest in volunteering for the event can also be directed to Mr. Bohannon, owner of Kingpin’s Alley, by calling: 518-793-9606.

Daily events listings and ticket info are online at kingpinsalley.com.

Gina Mintzer, Executive Director of the Lake George Regional Convention & Visitors Bureau, was quoted: “The PWBA US Women’s Open is a major league event in the sport of bowling. From the nationwide television coverage, athlete and fan visitation and regional support, this is Stefanik: $3.5-million loan for Qby. Hotel

Congresswoman Elise Stefanik announced the Queensbury Hotel will receive a $3,535,000 rural development investment loan from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to finance its update.

“The Queensbury Hotel is special to our area’s local history, critical for our local tourism, and an important gathering place for our community,” Rep. Stefanik was quoted in a press release.

“This investment will allow the hotel to accommodate more guests and create 25 new jobs and support 80 jobs, and I look forward to witnessing its greater impact on our region.”

Glens Falls redraws lines; Ward 4 much larger; shrunk Wards 2 & 3

By Cathy DeDe
Chronicle Managing Editor

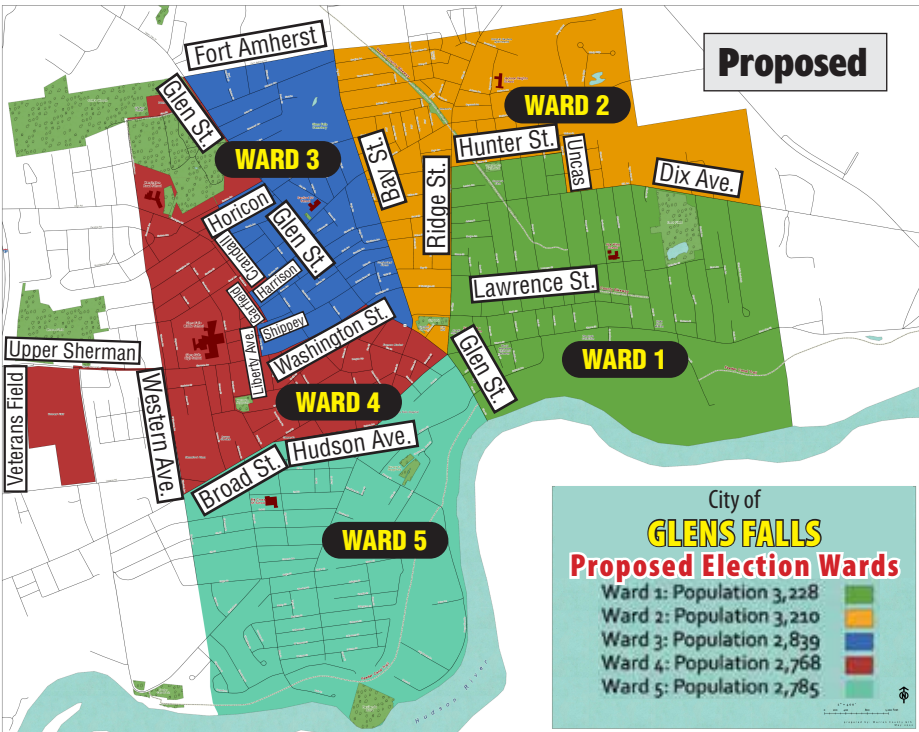

Looking finally to equalize populations of its five wards, the City of Glens Falls has redrawn the map. If approved by the Common Council, the public will get the chance to vote on it.

Finally looking to even out populations

Ward 4, which previously had just 1,883 residents, less than half the 3,884 in Ward 2, will get much larger in the proposed new map, while Wards 2 and 3 will see substantial decreases.

Now the wards will have populations roughly within 10 percent of each other.

Ward 4 in the new map extends from Broad Street and Hudson Avenue north to Horicon Avenue and Crandall Park. The redistricting committee, led by retired City Clerk Bob Curtis, will present its plans in a public hearing on Tuesday, June 14, at 7:25 p.m., prior to the Common Council meeting at 7:30. Both will also be streamed on YouTube. Details: CityofGlensFalls.com. “The City of Glens Falls has never done a redraw on the Ward Bound- aries since the City’s incorporation,” Chip McTiernan, special assistant to the Mayor, tells The Chronicle. “It had been kicked down the road for many years and needed to be addressed.” Because each Common Council member’s vote carries equal weight, the population disparity has long been seen as problematic and perhaps outright illegal. The Warren County Board of Supervisors weights the votes of Glens Falls supervisors by the population of each ward. Mayor Bill Collins said the state standard on representing district populations is a variance of no more than 10 percent. The proposed new configuration ranges from 2,768 residents in Ward 4 to 3,228 in Ward 1. The mayor said that when he was still a Councilman, Glens Falls resident and attorney John Caffry sent a letter calling for redistricting of the wards — and that triggered him to take it on as mayor. Mayor Collins said the committee was explicitly instructed to be “not political.” He said the new lines keep current elected Council members and County Supervisors in their existing wards. Mayor Collins’s own residence would shift from Ward 2 to Ward 1. He’s unaffected electorally because he’s elected by the entire city. To take effect, the committee’s proposal must be approved by the Common Council. Please turn to next page

Mayor: Taking input on parking hub plan at the Elm Street lot

Mayor Bill Collins's pursuit of a $13.8 million multi-use parking garage and transportation hub at the current Elm Street lot met with resistance when first revealed.

"We're taking a step back. I want people to know we are listening to them. Some think Elm Street is a good location, and a lot don't," Mr. Collins tells The Chronicle.

He said, "I am meeting with people a couple at a time to ask what they think of it" — including several who were quoted opposing the idea in a prior Chronicle article.

Mr. Collins said also, "We are updating a parking study to look at everything," including use of current spaces in parking garages, lots and streets, as well as future parking needs with continued downtown development. "And they will analyze eight to 10 potential locations for a new parking garage."

The City will pay half of the $15,000 consultant fee, and the Warren County Economic Development Corporation is also funding half, the mayor said.

Americade runs thru Sat.

Chronicle Managing Editor Cathy DeDe writes: The 39th Americade motorcycle rally continues today through Saturday,

June 11, in Lake George at the Fort William Henry and Festival Commons, and reaching throughout the region. Info and registration: americade.com. Americade was cancelled in 2020 and ran a smaller version in September 2021. "We're excited to return to normal," organizer Christian Dutcher told The Chronicle. Perennial attractions continue. "It is still noteworthy," said Mr. Dutcher, "that Americade has the most motorcycle demos of any event in the country. That is, if you want to try out a motorcycle, this is the place. Even dealerships don't have the things we have. Guided and self-guided tours proceed continue in the Adirondacks, the Green Mountains and throughout the region. Also returning is the Tour Expo, trade show with "about 200 vendors, demos, and displays from most major motorcycle manufacturers." Passes range from $20 single day to $50 "Weekend Warrior" and $195 Platinum all-week pass.

Some notable Americade events

- Full schedule at americade.com
- Hayley Bell, American Motorcyclist Association 2019 Motorcyclist of the Year, and founder of the Women Riders World Relay — "a worldwide endeavor to ignite a global sisterhood of inspirational women to promote courage, adventure, unity and passion for biking from all corners of the world," Thursday, June 9, at 6:30 p.m.
 - 'Not That Kind of Fashion' — Fashion Show by real riders showcasing their favorite gear, Thursday at 8 p.m.
 - Americade concerts benefitting Ronald McDonald House, free and open to the public, Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11, 6:30 to 9 p.m. in Shepard Park. Fireworks Saturday at 9:30 p.m.

- Great Charity Ride for Kids returns Saturday, June 11, expanded to a two-hour guided outing around Lake George, with lunch, to benefit the Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation. It's free to all riders, registered to Americade or not, by suggested donation of $40. Meet at 10 a.m. at the Fort William Henry.
- Alonzo Bodden, billed as "THE funniest motorcyclist on the planet," interviewed by Motorcycles & Misfits, Saturday, June 11, at 10:30 a.m.

Shepard Park Music!

The Fridays at the Lake Summer Concert Series at Shepard Park in Lake George begins this week.

Friday, June 10: The Blue Moon Band, Classic Rock at 6 p.m., followed by Southern rock band E.B. Jeb at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, June 11: Special for Americade week: Bluz House Rockers, seven-piece band at 6 p.m., followed by The Trilogy Tribute, musicians depicting Mick Jagger, Jim Morrison and Grace Slick at 7:30 p.m.

Warrensburg Bike Rally, too

The Warrensburg Bike Rally, organized by Ed Zibro, continues today through Sunday, June 12, at the Warren County Fairgrounds on Schroon River Road, off Route 9. Admission is free. Info: WarrensburgBikeRally.com, or on Facebook.

The Rally runs daily, 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with about 40 vendors and entertainment by Elvis Tribute Artist Joe Ramsey.

"Even if you don't ride, there's something. You gotta come," Mr. Zibro told The Chronicle.

Two-hander — Partners on stage, Whit K. Lee & Sami Ma in ATF's The Chinese Lady.

Adk. Theatre Fest: 'The Chinese Lady'

The Adirondack Theatre Festival opens its 27th season with The Chinese Lady, a two-person play based on the true story of a 14-year-old girl who toured this country in the 19th century as the first Chinese woman in America.

The show runs June 15 to 26 at the Wood Theater, Glens Falls. Tix: $45, $25 ages 18-under. Subscription discounts. Box office and info: ATFestival.org.

"At the time, in 1834, there were newspaper clippings about her appearance, but no first-person account from her perspective," says director Shannon Tyo. Ms. Tyo originated the title character and played her the much-lauded recent Public Theater production in New York City.

For ATF, she switches roles, making her directorial debut.

"It's the most produced play in the United States this year," she said. "It's a beautiful play, and timely," noting the Covid pandemic that originated in China, "an uptick in violence against the Asian American community." But she adds, "It's not a lecture. It's still very funny, touching, and deals with a subject in history that not a lot of people are familiar with."

John VanAlstine of Wells — known for assembled sculptures of stone and metal.

Hyde exhibit: 60 works by sculptor John VanAlstine

John VanAlstine shows 60 of his sculptures and other works at the Hyde Collection in Glens Falls beginning on Saturday, June 11, to September 18.

"It's not a retrospective," says the artist, who turns 70 this year, but it's close, showing works that span nearly 50 years.

More than a "local" artist, Mr. VanAlstine has works in collections and museums around the country and the world, including China and Europe, he said.

He grew up in Johnstown, was an accomplished skier who attended St. Lawrence University on a sports scholarship — and then discovered sculpture, "and that was that," he says. His abstract works combine found and sculpted metals with raw stone. "Rather than chip away at the stone, like for Michelangelo's David, I leave the stone as it is. It's a very Japanese approach, finding the meaning in the stone as it exists in nature."

He will do a meet-the-artist presentation/book signing Saturday, from 1 to 4.

got a lot of people pushing. There are a lot of people that are eager for us to take control of the track" — citing "green groups" like the Adirondack Mountain Club, Adirondack Council and Open Space Institute.

"They know we're the best stewards of the line."

Mr. Brandt said he expects the sale to close in the "next 30 to 45 days."

Mr. LaScala said of New York State, "we have an agreement with them. They're taking it through channels."

New York had petitioned the Surface Transportation Board to abandon the track, but the federal agency favors keeping railways in operation.

Mr. Brandt said the action "for abandonment is probably moot at this point."

The State wants to guarantee no empty tankers will be stored on the track, "which of course we're not going to do," Mr. LaScala said. "We are Adirondackers and love the Park and the beauty of the Park and we're never going to do anything to jeopardize that."

Cars were stored on the track under prior ownership.

Mr. LaScala said he expects New York "will pull their request for a stay" and then the Surface Transportation Board will approve the sale to Revolution Rail.

SMS in Fort Edward handles freight

Mr. LaScala said they have the financing "completely lined up."

Mr. Brandt said Revolution Rail paid a $500,000 deposit and added, "This is going to close very easily."

Besides recreational use, Mr. LaScala said, "We are geared to work with anybody that wants to move freight...When Barton Mines [in North River] or Paul Mitchell [Stone, in Tahawus] wants to ship freight, SMS can move it for us to the Saratoga interchange."

SMS Rail Lines — operator of short lines in the Northeast — has had a facility at Fort Edward since 2017. Its website says of the Fort Edward operation, "We serve industry in the region providing 'on-demand' rail car switching with array of logistical loading and unloading services as well as rail car storage. We interchange with Canadian Pacific Railway."

Mr. LaScala said, "We have a very close working relationship with SMS Rail... We're running rail bikes on their line in southwest New Jersey — the Woodstown Central Line — gorgeous scenic rail" that is Revolution Rail's latest launch.

Their rail bike business also operates in Cape May, New Jersey and South Fork, Colorado. Mr. LaScala they're soon to launch in Kennebunkport, Maine.

Locally Revolution Rail operates four railbike lines — North Creek north, North Creek south, Thurman and Hadley.

Doc N Duchess touted titanium

Three bidders vied for the rail line at the March 3 bankruptcy auction.

Doc N Duchess Rails LLC — formed by Carol McClean-Wright and her husband John Wright, of New Mexico — submitted the winning bid, $3.33-million, but "they were not able to come up with the money," said Mr. Brandt.

He said that when the bidding exceeded $3-million, he had told bidders that the unexpectedly high offers would require posting of an additional deposit that he said Doc & Duchess failed to provide.

Revolution Rail had submitted the second highest bid, $3.32-million.

After the default, Mr. Brandt said Revolution Rail asked for its purchase price to be lowered because it said Doc and Duchess's defunct bid had inflated the price.

Mr. Brandt said that all parties agreed to Revolution Rail's $2.7-million offer, "including the third bidder," Sierra Rail of California, which departed the bidding much earlier.

When Doc N Duchess's high bid was initially accepted, its co-owner Carol McClean-Wright was quoted in the Albany Times-Union describing stone in Tahawus as "an excellent source of titanium. That's our main goal."

The Adirondack Explorer reported then Ms. McClean-Wright "said she and her husband are determined to move forward because they view the work of obtaining a source of rare-earth metals — believed to be abundant in tailings from the old mine at Tahawus — as vital for national security." She reportedly said their financial backers in Europe couldn't move the money quickly enough during the Covid pandemic to meet the May 6 deadline.

In 2016, in another bankruptcy auction, Ms. McClean-Wright bought the former 1000 Acres dude ranch in Stony Creek for $1.405-million planning to "turn the resort into an instructional camp that focuses science, math, engineering and technology," said the Albany Business Review. The property was sold three years later.

Revolution Rail's origin

Revolution Rail says it was founded in 2016 by Robert Harte and Michael Dupee, who "combined their backgrounds in education and corporate sustainability, and passion for nature..."

[T]ogether, they designed and built the company (and the bikes!) from scratch, partnered with a supportive local community in North Creek, NY, and launched Revolution Rail Company in July 2017

Stars and nebulas

My favorite thing to do to relax would just be going outside, looking up at the stars, galaxies and nebulas. I like to do this because if you're like me, you could see what nobody else can on their own. I like to name nebulas, stars, and galaxies. My personal favorite nebula is the Crab Nebula. I also like to name planets. The first and hottest one you'll see is Venus. The biggest and brightest you'll see would be Jupiter. That is my favorite thing to do to relax.

Into the woods

When I'm feeling stressed out or I just want to relax I go outside in my backyard and I walk back into the woods. One reason I go in the woods when I want to relax is because just taking a walk is SO relaxing but if you go in the woods there will be all new things to explore. I just found a bench out in the woods a month ago but now that is my favorite spot to relax. Another reason I go in the woods to relax is it is so peaceful just hearing all the birds and other animals.

What's your favorite thing to do to relax?

Cake with frosting

I usually freak out...a lot. I always relax after a hard day. I have a favorite way to relax too! There are many ways to relax but I say baking does it. I love baking, when you get to crack the eggs, pour the flour, and mix it. It always soothes me, especially making cakes. It soothes me more, due to cake having more ingredients than cookies, cupcakes, etc.

My favorite part that relaxes me is either watching the cake bake or frosting it. Frosting has to win though. It relaxes me so much watching cake getting frosted. Especially when it goes out of a tube. As you can see, baking is my favorite way to relax!

Employment

Assistant Design Engineer

Flomatic® started manufacturing high-quality valves 90 years ago and we haven't stopped since. Together, we are a value-driven, customer-centric, and environmentally conscious team. Our continued success in the water and wastewater industry reflects the shared knowledge, integrity, and operational excellence of our dedicated employees.

We are looking for a self-motivated Assistant Design Engineer with strong detail-oriented skills and SolidWorks CAD experience to join our internationally acclaimed team. The ideal candidate will work closely with our Engineering Manager in our Glens Falls office to assist in the development of product technical specifications, design implementation, and the production of our high performance valve products.

This is an exciting opportunity for a talented engineering professional looking to learn and grow their cross-organizational skills within a professional setting. The Assistant Design Engineer will work closely with sales, manufacturing, and our marketing team to help design and deliver high-quality valves built to last. . . ®

Key Responsibilities:

Create concept designs, assemblies, layouts, and drawings of various products.

Perform form, fit and function studies to ensure designs meet all established requirements.

Support drawing and part release processes.

Establish and follow technical project plans.

Participate in design reviews.

Prepare technical reports, production engineering documentation, and test data (as required).

Manage and maintain version control over technical design documents & replicate design changes in technical publications.

Conduct verification and validation testing of various products (as required).

Develop reports on a monthly basis for the Engineering Manager.

Qualifications:

Associates degree in Engineering Technology or related field.

3-5 years' experience with SolidWorks (creating design concepts, assemblies, and layouts).

Familiarity with mechanical engineering fundamentals and machining processes (in a metals manufacturing environment).

Proficient Microsoft Office (Outlook, Excel, and Word).

1 to 4 years of experience with valve products and related design requirements preferred

SolidWorks Flow Simulation, Simulation, Visualize, or Composer experience a plus

3D Animation experience a plus

Knowledge of ISO 9001 & ISO 14001 preferred.

Possesses strong communication skills and a strong work ethic (including accountability, integrity, enthusiasm, and motivation).

Why Join Our Flomatic family?

High quality valves are made from high quality people and the most significant investment we make is in our employees. Therefore, we offer a full benefits package after 60 day introductory period:

Medical insurance

Dental insurance

Vision insurance

401(K) matching

Company bonuses

Generous PTO (including 12 paid holidays)

How to Apply?

Please submit a cover letter, resume, and compensation requirements with your application to deyettem@flomatic.com. COVID-19 Vaccination is required. Accommodations will be made as required by law.

NYS Senate lines set new battles

By Zander Frost
Chronicle Staff Writer

Warren, Saratoga and part of Washington County are now in three separate districts, and a tense race between two Republican senators arose in one of them. State senate and congressional primaries will be held August 23, delayed after the Democrat-drawn maps were ruled unconstitutional and had to be redrawn. The petition filing period ends Friday, June 10.

Republican Senators Daphne Jordan and Jim Tedisco are vying, bitterly in the redrawn 44th District, containing all of Saratoga County and part of Schenectady County.

Ms. Jordan said in a press release that Mr. Tedisco “doesn’t have the courage to run for office in his own Senate District because he’s afraid he might lose to Democrat Neil Breslin.”

Sen. Breslin won reelection in 2020 with 73% of the vote.

Mr. Tedisco’s hometown of Glenville is not in the new district; Ms. Jordan’s home in Halfmoon is.

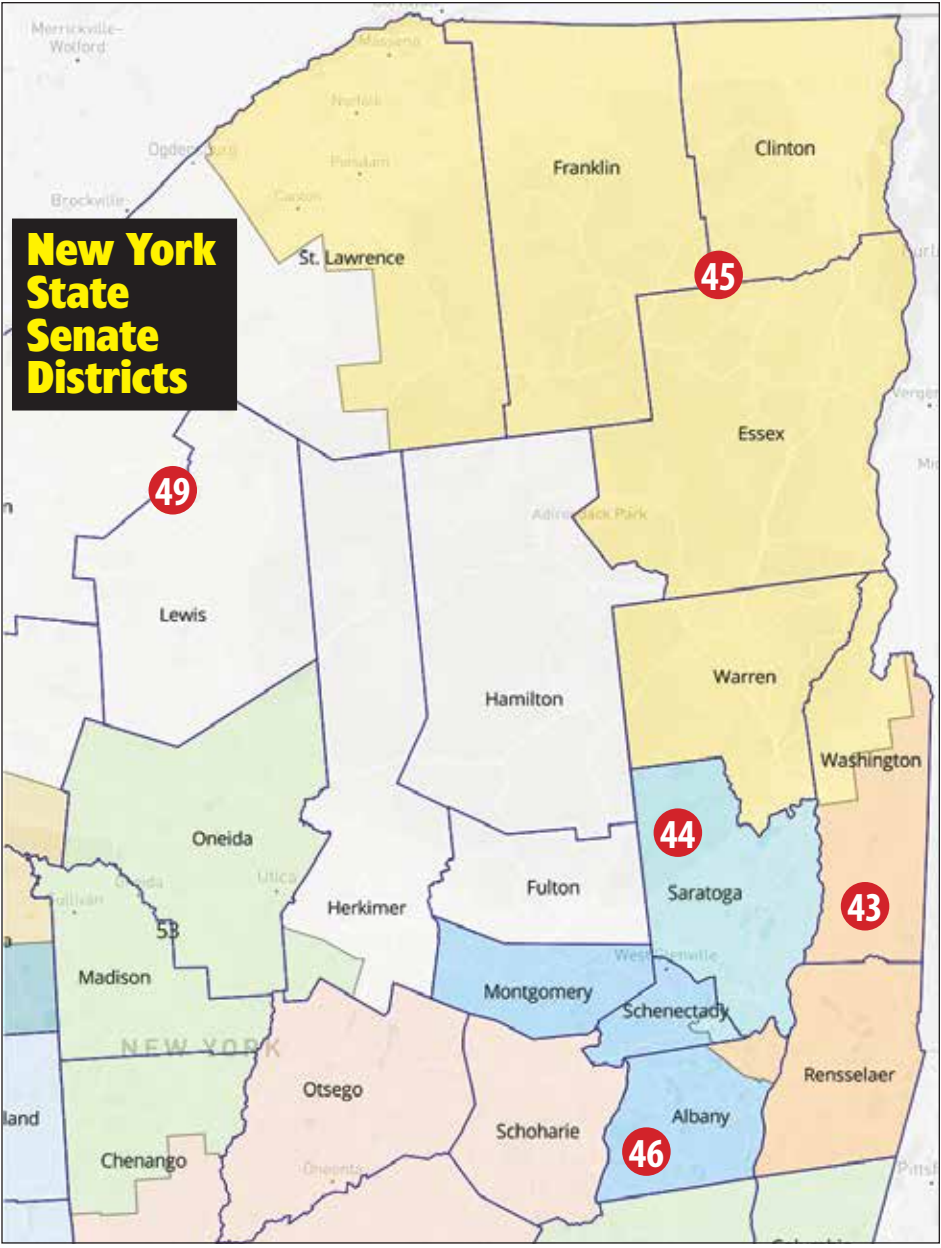

Mr. Tedisco decided to run in Ms. Jordan’s 44th anyway, and the Times-Union reported that he secured the endorsements of the Saratoga and Schenectady County Republican committee.

Incumbent Republican Dan Stec may have a challenger — Democrat Jean Lapper — in the 45th district, which includes Warren, Essex, Clinton, Franklin and parts of Washington and St. Lawrence Counties.

Warren County Democratic Chairwoman Lynne Boecher told The Chronicle Tuesday that “we are collecting signatures this week throughout the district,” but did not confirm for certain that Ms. Lapper, a CPA, is running.

Republican Assemblyman Jake Ashby and Democrat Andrea Smyth are vying in the 43rd District, which contains southern Washington County, all of Rensselaer County and part of Albany County. It includes Troy and Latham.

Albany County Sheriff Craig Apple, a Democrat, had expressed interest but dropped out of the race last week in a Facebook post. He said he will not endorse a candidate.

Ms. Smyth says she “served as the Executive Director of the New York State Coalition for Children’s Behavioral Health for 18 years.”

Mr. Ashby says he is a “former Army Captain who served two tours of combat duty, and today works as an occupational therapist and college instructor.”

O’Brien flag exchange

O’Brien Insurance Agency offers its annual Flag Day Exchange on Tuesday June 14, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the office on 83 Bay Street, Glens Falls. Bring your old, worn out American flag to be disposed of properly, and O’Brien will provide a new one “to fly proudly.”

Corinth - 100' of direct Great Sacandaga Lake waterfront!! Heated sunroom offers breathtaking sunset, mountain and lake views, even during the cold months. Large screened in porch. Walkout basement offers easy access and plenty of storage for all your recreational activities. Gorgeous hardwood floors and doors throughout. Situated on a town-maintained quiet road, perfect for walking. Close to boat launches and minutes to Hadley and Lake Luzerne.

MLS# 202214291 | $699,000
Lindsey Kenna | 518-796-8177

Lake George - This is a fantastic property for re-development in Lake George, in the center of the village overlooking the lake and Shepard Park! This is in the six-story overlay zone of the mixed commercial use area. The current buildings could be razed and replaced with underground garage and a six-story building with a restaurant or retail on the street level and six levels of high-end residential units. This zone also allows for VRBO type overnight rentals.

MLS# 202218743 | $1,650,000
Jeff & Pam York | 518-796-9814

Johnsburg - This is 15 minutes from Gore Mountain Skiing and has a wonderful and robust brook on the property! It is wooded and rolling topography but has several good sites for a home or camp. Privacy is very good! There are houses all through the area, but they are all on larger parcels and separated from one another. Power and phone are on the road. Two lots are being sold together.

MLS# 202218822 | $74,900
Jeff & Pam York | 518-796-9814

Ticonderoga - Beautiful lakefront with 160+ ft of waterfront on the northern end of Lake George. Perfect spot to build your dream getaway! Public water and sewer hook ups already in place. Brand new 40' dock.

Why no coverage of horrific Texas shooting; need background checks; ban AR-15 guns and body armor be the only newspaper in the country that hasn't had a single story on this yet. You've published two editions since the shooting happened.

Before anyone laments the mental health situation here, I'd like to point out two things. First, mental health is a problem everywhere, not just here in the US. And yet we're the only country that has mass shootings occurring regularly. Almost daily. And second, why are republicans so against affordable health-care if they really want to do something about mental health?

Bottom line is, we have a major problem with guns in this country. We need stronger background checks and bans on body armor and assault style weapons. If you need an AR-15 and a high capacity magazine to hunt, just give up; you're clearly a terrible hunter. Our Congresswoman Stefanik has recently said she doesn't support any gun control. If you can say that in response to 19 10-year-old children being slaughtered while "good guys with guns" stood around too scared to do anything, you're a part of the problem.

— Jono Pollard, Glens Falls

Boats still hitting the rocks at Isom Bay, LG

side those rocks, either side, not in front of the rocks, and four boats today, so far, have hit the rocks, damaging their boat outdrives, some more than others.

They could remove all the buoys except one, directly in front of the hidden underwater rocks & save thousands of boat owner repair bills. It really isn't a pretty sight seeing these boats ill-guided right into the rocks because of the placement of the buoys. Yes, the buoys mean danger, novice boaters should know better, they don't, and wham, they are directly funneled into the rocks.

They should put all the buoys a foot apart directly in front of the rocks.

Ohh well. All this gives new meaning to deaf ears...

— Daniel J. Pratt, AIA

Editor's note: Daniel has been alerting Chronicle readers to Isom Bay boat perils going back at least to 2017.
