Luzerne has lost its restaurants

By Zander Frost
Chronicle Staff Writer

The central business district of Lake Luzerne-Hadley is without a dinner restaurant, with Upriver Cafe, The Waterhouse and 9 North Wood Fired Pizza & Pub adjacent to Bend of the River Golf Course all having closed.

It didn't just curtail dining options; it's making it harder to find workers.

"Losing Upriver Cafe killed us," Linda Merlino, owner of The Lamplight Inn, told The Chronicle. She said two Thai students worked summers at her B&B during the day, lived in an on-site apartment, and could walk around the block to

There is a descriptive phrase for lacking intelligence or common sense or good judgment, and it is not merely a matter of having one's "mind made up." This phrase aptly applies to Elise Stefanik, for example.

It is clear that Stefanik's public rants and tweets and lies are not just the product of her mind simply being made

Qby’s Brigid Duffy to West Point; Air Force: Tyler Spaulding

By Sophia Afsar-Keshmiri
Chronicle Summer Staff

Queensbury High School will send two seniors, Brigid Duffy and Tyler Spaulding, to service academies — where both will also compete as Division I athletes.

Brigid will attend the United States Military Academy at West Point and play soccer and lacrosse.

Tyler will play baseball at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Both Tyler and Brigid said they intend to pursue military careers beyond their five years of required service.

“I really do want to serve my country,” Brigid told The Chronicle. “And then on top of that, I’ll be able to play sports in college.”

Tyler said he is considering a degree in aeronautical engineering or military and strategic studies. Brigid is leaning towards civil engineering.

They were nominated for the academies by Congresswoman Elise Stefanik.

While the school year is just ending, their summer training camps are already nearly here. Brigid departs in a week.

Tyler will miss his high school graduation, having departed for boot camp. He received his diploma early, at Queensbury’s Senior Awards Night.

“I think what we’re going to be doing is really exciting. So being able to do it sooner, and not having to wait is good,” Tyler said.

What is summer training? “Like very traditional boot camp,” Tyler said. “It’s learning how to shoot, learning how to march, learning how to salute, just introduction to the military.”

“And then a lot of like, physical activity things,” said Brigid.

“Everyone, they’re like, oh, good luck. It’s gonna be so hard,” Tyler said. “I’m more excited than nervous. I think it’ll be fun.”

Ever the athlete, Brigid said, “I’m excited for the competitive aspect of it.”

While they’re both looking forward to what’s next, they have fond memories of their Queensbury athletic careers.

Brigid looks back on her senior year soccer sectional title. “We hadn’t ever [won sectionals]. So that was really cool,” she said. “And it was such a close game and so emotional.”

Tyler referenced a baseball game from his freshman year as a Spartan. “We lost to Ballston Spa at St. Rose. I think was a sectional of semifinal game.

“That was a cool game because that was a really good team. And we had a lot of seniors that I looked up to. But just to be on that field and share the field with a lot of those guys was cool.”

Marjorie J. Johnson, Feb. 5, 1933-June 8, 2022

Marjorie J. Johnson, 89, a resident of Queensbury, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, June 8, 2022 at her home.

She was born on February 5, 1933 in Northumberland and was the daughter of the late William and Jessie (VanLew) Johnson.

For Marjorie, family was the most important aspect of her life. Large family gatherings during holidays and around the pool were a joy for her. She encouraged the family to stand together in peace, love and harmony. Marjorie's spirituality and faith in God guided her throughout her life. She remained young at heart and active until her final days. Her hobbies included bird-watching, painting, gardening, swimming and singing her favorite tunes on the player piano surrounded by her family and friends. Marjorie's last message to all who loved her was; "A dollar is a dollar and a dime is a dime. I'd stay a lot longer but I haven't the time."

Besides her parents she is predeceased by the father of her children, Henry C. Knoblauch, Jr; beloved daughter and son in law, Debbie and Richard "Chip" Collin and a sister, Agnes Ann Kiernan.

Survivors include her daughters, Margie "Gigi" Barrett of Queensbury, Kim Butterfield of Lake George, Leesa Knoblauch Stiller of Queensbury, Michelle Knoblauch of Gansevoort and her son, Henry C. Knoblauch III of South Glens Falls.

She is also survived by her grandchildren, Guthrie, Rory and Doug Collin, Heather and Kyle Barrett, Savanna Butterfield West, Arinne and Amber Stiller, Dominick Bechard and Jessica Rowland, Sydney and Gabrielle Sliva and nine great grandchildren as well as her long time significant other, Kenneth Ellis; lifelong friend Sue Shepard and a large loving extended family and friends.

Funeral services will be private and at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours scheduled.

The family would like to thank the Harrisena Community Church for the weekly meal and to High Peaks Hospice for their love and support during Marjorie's final days.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to High Peaks Hospice, 454 Glen Street, Glens Falls, NY 12801.

For those who wish, on line condolences may be made to the family by visiting www.sbfuneralhome.com.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Regan Denny Stafford Funeral Home, 53 Quaker Rd, Queensbury.

Mary Simione is 100; tales of family bakery & more, by her niece

Christina Simione-Sievers writes: Celebrating a century of a life filled with love and family on June 29 for Mary Simione! The second of 12 children, Mary started her life in Pittsfield, MA to Italian immigrant parents Alberico and Carmela. She grew up in the hamlet of Fenimore. She and her siblings would walk over the Hudson Falls bridge to and from school daily. On cold days, they would stop halfway to warm up at a commercial building. Her Fenimore friends include the Binetti's, Rosati's, Luciano's, the Abodeely Family, and her neighbor, Gerard. Mary moved to New York City at age 19 to provide for her family back home, and worked at a jewelry booth where she met her late husband, Joseph Schechter. Mary (alongside her brothers) would come home to help with their family bakery known to many as Simione Brother's or Hudson View Bakery. Every summer she made deliveries around Saratoga, Warren and Washington counties. She helped until age 94, when the bakery closed. Though she didn't have kids, she treated us (nieces and nephews) like we

So, when you are in the big city, out for a long walk, sitting in a park, holding a baby or at a good restaurant, preferably Mario's in Lake George, think of our dear Aunt Mary. We raise a glass to many more years of a great life. On her birthday and every day, she will enjoy a quiet day tucked away in the hamlet of Fenimore. Mary, we salute you and send you many blessings on your 100th birthday! Happy Birthday Aunt Mary, we love you!

LG Village: 1st public dissolution meeting

The Lake George Village Board's first public informational meeting concerning the scheduled vote on possible dissolution of the village is Monday, June 27 at 6 p.m., in the Lake George Town Hall.

Representatives from LaBerge Group, hired as consultants by the Town and Village Boards, will explain the scope of the planned work, timetable, State laws and other pertinent facts of the study.

Their work is expected to take place over the next two months and be followed by additional public meetings.

The vote is scheduled for Tuesday, September 13, from noon-9 p.m.

The consultants will prepare a fact sheet, create a website with updates and answer questions concerning the study and impact of dissolution upon the affected taxpayers.

Aviation Mall's Covid Vax-Test site closed

With COVID cases continuing to fall, the New York State Department of Health closed its vaccine and testing clinic at Aviation Mall last Thursday.

Warren County Health Services said they will continue to assist individuals in need of COVID testing and vaccinations.

Info: 761-6580.

"We will begin stocking Pfizer vaccine as soon as possible to supplement the Moderna vaccine we have been offering in recent months," said Ginelle Jones, Warren County Director of Health Services.

"We offer our most sincere gratitude to our partners from New York State for operating this facility for both COVID-19 vaccination and testing."

'Bubblers' meeting Wednesday in Horicon

The Horicon Town Board will hold an informational meeting about De-Icers — also known as "Bubblers" — on Wednesday, June 29, at 7 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The subject is also expected to be on the agenda of the Town's regular meetings in July and August.

Bubblers or de-icers are used to agitate or warm the water around a dock to protect it from ice forming in the winter.

Cindy Mead of Brant Lake sent notice of the meetings and added, "Our aim is not to 'ban' bubblers, but to enact some sort of guidelines regarding size of open water allowed and safety precautions."

In a letter to the Chronicle this winter, January, Cindy Mead said her daughter's dog died in open water she believed was caused by a bubbler system.

She said in the letter, "New York State has regulations on everything we do," yet, she learned, "there are no guidelines regulating personal ice eaters/bubbler systems on our lakes?"

Correction: Liebig...

Correcting a Chronicle error in last week's edition: Iva Liebig was proprietor of Liebig Berries (along with her late husband Phil, and they haven't had strawberries for several years). She was never proprietor of Liebig's Strawberry Ridge in Truthville, N.Y., which is owned by Mark Liebig, and operated by Derek Liebig. There are no longer strawberries at Strawberry Ridge. They said they will still offer pick your own blueberries, raspberries and pumpkins.

A little more from Mark Frost...

Chronicle editor Mark Frost writes: Never wanting to miss an opportunity to make people mad at me...
I agree with the new policy of The International Swimming Federation (FINA) — passed with 71.5% approval of its Extraordinary General Congress. CNN says it stipulates “that male-to-female transgender athletes will only be eligible to compete in the women’s categories in FINA competitions if they transition before the age of 12 or before they reach stage two on the puberty Tanner Scale.”
I thought it was unfair and absurd that Lia Thomas — who swam as a male two years ago — now as a woman so dominated women’s college swimming, breaking records, winning the NCAA championship.
You looked at Lia’s physique and strength and you could see disparity. Lia’s teammates on the University of Pennsylvania’s women’s team didn’t dare object except anonymously, for fear of being blackballed as bigots, for life. Parents and past women’s champions argued their case and cause instead.
Women fought so hard for so long for the chance to compete in sports. The necessary standard is common sense and what’s fairest in each situation.

Scoop: Our graduation issue

By Mark Frost
Chronicle Editor

We’re proud to bring you the 2022 Graduation Chronicle.

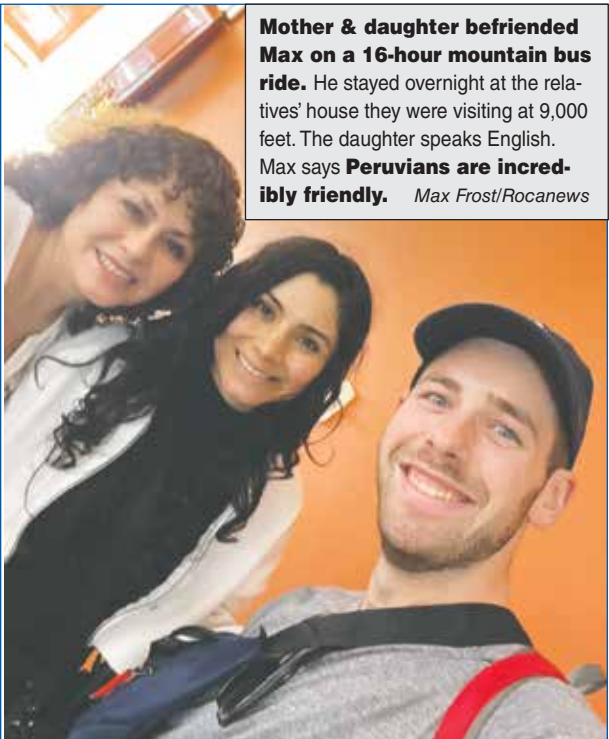

Love seeing all those local kids — 14 schools worth — at a milestone, making headway in life. I enjoy learning detail about some, like Fort Ann Top 10 grad Jack Dornan, who sees himself in 10 years “working full time as a lineman, still finding a way to fish almost every day!”

The graduates and school staff come through for us. Our Managing Editor Cathy DeDe seeks out and compiles the content in the 24-page second section. The ads are sold by our Advertising Coordinator Kate Schoneveld and our do-it-all-guy Zander Frost. Ed Deso makes the ads — a huge slew of them. Jane Fowler bills ‘em. I edit and assemble the pages. Lot of work. Very proud of the crew & the product!

Loading freight on a boat in Peru — bananas, watermelons and not sure what the man at the far left is carrying but it looks HEAVY! Max Frost photos for Rocanews

Mother & daughter befriended Max on a 16-hour mountain bus ride. He stayed overnight at the relatives’ house they were visiting at 9,000 feet. The daughter speaks English. Max says Peruvians are incredibly friendly. Max Frost/Rocanews

Our son Max is riding down the Amazon River as I write this...

Chronicle editor Mark Frost writes: Our world-traveler son Max texted us an hour or so ago to let us know that he had boarded the overnight boat that will take him down the Amazon River in Peru to its junction with Brazil and Colombia. He’s going to Brazil. Were (are) we nervous? Yes. But Max leads his life. He’s been in intermittent cell phone contact, texting and a few times actually talking with us. Reassuring. He’s traveling solo, making friends along the way, like the Peruvian mother and daughter above. He flew to Lima, Peru, then rode buses up and down Andes Mountains — he said there aren’t tunnels or bridges; one ride was 16 hours — to reach the boats, the jungle, the Amazon. Met 2 Germans. No Americans. He’s eaten guinea pig (“came with the head on it”) and crocodile — actually caiman. He had a severe digestive episode before he ate the caiman. He already laughed about his intestinal stress when he told us.

Talking jobs: EDC speaker on the bad news (& some hope)

By Cathy DeDe
Chronicle Managing Editor

“Today I’ll be largely the bearer of bad news,” Dr. Rachel Sederberg told the Warren County Economic Development Corporation’s annual luncheon last Friday at the Great Escape Lodge.

Dr. Sederberg’s topic was “The Demographic Drought,” or “Bridging the Gap in our Labor Force.”

The research manager with the consulting firm Emsi Burning Glass in Boston brought sobering data to the gathering of business leaders, elected officials and community members.

“It’s not just a perfect storm, it’s a hurricane, earthquake, and tornado all rolled into one,” Dr. Sederberg said.

Low birth rates, slowed immigration, Baby Boomers retiring — these all contribute to what she deems the future labor crisis. “You can’t employ what you don’t have,” she said, “and this train is going to keep coming at us.”

Cut to the conclusion: “Disengaged not unemployed is the problem,” Dr. Sederberg said. Millions of males, ages 16 to 19, are not looking for work. 2.6 million people retired during Covid.

“There are 3.5 million disengaged people, not consciously looking, but on the sidelines. But if the right thing came around, they’d jump.”

She asked, “How do we reenergize them?”

“We need to go find them. We need to get our message out to the people who are out of the labor force. That’s where the missing worker is.”

Baby boom set the stage

“We need to know where we are, so we can make progress,” Dr. Sederberg said. Quoting and paraphrasing from her talk:

Baby boomers, who have long exerted “massive power” over the social and economic landscape, were already aging out of the workforce, beginning around 2002 “well before Covid.”

The baby boom saw rising birth rates,

a “huge” leap in the number of women in the work force, and increased college enrollment. It drove “massive” and unprecedented gains in household wealth.

“In February 2020 we had record low unemployment. Then our world turned upside down.”

She cited 7 million job openings, with 5.9 people actively looking for work — “and millennials can’t make up for that.”

Also on the decline, since before Covid: the number of prime-age working men.

More people 55 and older were already choosing to work part time, “because they wanted to, they had the savings and they could.”

Where we’re at now

Since Covid: “Labor force participation is not improving. About 3 million people dropped out of the work force, with no intention of returning.”

Almost a million dropped out of the workforce to start their own businesses.

Seven million of today’s 11.4 million job openings are meant for those without a college degree — and those are the ones largely going unfilled, Dr. Sederberg said — “a huge 7 million job problem.”

An epidemic of opioid addiction and overdoses has depleted the youth male work force. More than 100,000 “prime age working men” died of opioid overdoses last year, she said.

Meanwhile, there’s a “birth dearth” — U.S. birth rate is 1.6 children per woman, below “the replenishment rate” of 2.1.

By 2034, “older adults will outnumber children — for the first time ever in this country,” Dr. Sederberg said.

She asks, with dependent children and seniors outnumbering those of working age, who will support them? c

Can't we use robots, she asked?

“Fun fact,” Dr. Sederberg answered herself, even generating a laugh, “To build and run robots requires 12 million more jobs than now.”

Meanwhile, “If you can't get workers from within, you get them from outside,” which is also not happening. “We are essentially missing 2 million immigrants — 638,000 immigrants in 2021, versus as many as 1,063,000 in pre-Covid years.

Beyond manual labor in agriculture and elsewhere, “Health care relies on foreign workers,” she said.

She said one in four U.S. medical doctors and health aides and one in five nurses are typically foreign born.

A skewed bit of hope: With Covid stimulus payments over, “How are people paying for things if they're not working?”

Dr. Sederberg said credit card debt is up. Household savings are down. People are selling assets. That's not sustainable.”

Jim Siplon: 'Our best days'

“I'm not sure I should say “Thank you,” deadpanned Kathy Muncil, CEO of Fort William Henry, after the talk, to introduce the next speaker.

EDC President Jim Siplon, concluding the luncheon, noted that despite the pandemic, “Last year was the greatest year in our tourism economy — ever.”

He pointed to Stewart's Shops, Kirsh motorcycle helmets, Brookfield Renewable Energy and Nettle Meadow Cheese, profiled in the first of a planned series of promotional videos. (See adjacent box.)

“They're the best of us, and they are also showing us the way out,” said Mr. Siplon. “Companies big and small who have not thrown up their hands...”

“Our County figured it out like nobody else and then we told everybody else how to do it. We are already evolving into the next wave. We are in a strategic position, at the top of the Capital District, the cherry on their sundae, and we are also the gateway to the North. We know

EDC video touts Warren County to business

“Growing Business the Warren County Way” is the first in a series of videos Warren County Economic Development Corporation engaged Behan Communications to create to help “sell” the region to businesses.

The video, which debuted at the EDC luncheon last week, was to be posted on the EDC Website on Tuesday, President Jim Siplon tells The Chronicle.

Check: edwc.org.

The short, emotionally charged piece showcases the ever-expanding Stewart's Shops, Brookfield Renewable Energy that moved its regional headquarters to Queensbury, KIRSH motorcycle helmets that focuses on employing veterans, and Nettle Meadow Farm's expanded cheese production and tasting room in Lake Luzerne.

people want to live here. What will it take to bring them?”

“I watched you all do it better than anyone in the state. For this to become the place you all want it to be...There's money, and energy out there. We are ready to make this happen.”

SGF grads launch Lovey + Co. nanny service

Best friends and South High grads Emma Goodspeed, 19, and Olivia Barber, 21, have launched Lovey + Co., a “nanny service...now booking for the summer,” said a press release.

It said, “Between them, they have more than 10 years of childcare experience, including babysitting, working in a daycare setting, and caring for Olivia's two younger siblings. They have cared for newborns, toddlers, pre-teens and all ages in between, and have numerous references available upon request..”

The release said, “On Friday, June 17, lovey + co was officially a licensed LLC. Emma and Olivia are in the process of becoming fully insured. On Monday, June 20, Emma and Olivia announced that July was completed booked, and August was filling up fast!”

It concluded, “Need a well-deserved date night? Need childcare for an upcoming wedding or special event? Overnight, or just an afternoon? Call Emma and Olivia at 518-538-9000 today!”

for community festivals; new lighting and fencing; and a new parking lot.

"This park was such an important part of growing up in Hudson Falls for so many years," said Mayor John Barton in press info. "And now it's back and better than ever for the enjoyment of people of all ages across our entire region. Combined with our growing downtown arts district, we're putting Hudson Falls back on the map."

Emphasis in the speeches was on how many businesses, individuals, the Hudson Falls School joined in the effort. The school paid half of the cost of the new athletic fields and will maintain them.

Besides the Morans' $500,000, the state Office of Park, Recreation & Historic Preservation provided $600,000.

Ham Radio Day atop Prospect Mtn., June 25-26

The Warren County Radio Club invites the public to experience and learn more about ham radio this weekend atop Prospect Mountain in Lake George, Saturday and Sunday, June 25 and 26. The Club will operate at the Prospect Mountain parking lot as part of national Amateur Radio Field Day that occurs on the fourth weekend of June of each year. The event is free. Vehicles pay a state fee to use the highway, or, for free, hike the Prospect Mountain trail. "Ham radio functions completely independent of the internet or cell phone infrastructure, can interface with

Faults Stefanik: USDA loan to Qby. Hotel

From front page Queensbury Hotel from the US Department of Agriculture (USDA) to finance its update. I believe the Hotel is in the Hospitality business, NOT an Agriculture business, and should not receive the loan when many other farm businesses in our counties are struggling to stay afloat. I don't see one dairy cow, beef cow, poultry animal, horse, pig or any other animal that meets agricultural criteria on that plot. Farmers of these animals feed our tables with their products and produce milk for our children and tables. I also don't see mass planting of vegetables by a farmer to feed our tables on that plot. We see vegetable farmers tablets or smartphones, and can be set up almost anywhere in minutes. That's the beauty of Amateur Radio during a communications outage," David Isgur, communications manager for the National Association for Amateur Radio was quoted. "Field Day is a showcase for how Amateur Radio works reliably under any conditions from almost any location to create an independent communications network," said a press release. Warren County Radio Club info: www.w2wcr.org Anyone may become a licensed amateur radio operator, and the national organization says there are more than 725,000 licensed hams, from ages nine to 100, in the United States. Mr. Isgur was quoted: "In today's electronic do-it-yourself environment, ham radio remains one of the best ways for people to learn about electronics, physics, meteorology, and other disciplines."

from our counties at Farmers Markets with their luscious products. You forgot who you say you supported when you first were elected. You may have a campaign office there in the city but Agriculture is all around Warren and Washington Counties, and the farmers/businesses that are agriculture focused deserve help from that USDA Loan rather than a Hotel that probably had its funding all set. Get out of Washington, put your big boots on and go to the farmer to discuss the struggles they are having. Labor shortages with higher costs when they can hire, fuel is sky high, milk prices that may be higher than last year but the population isn't drinking milk as they have in the past because of negative media. Feed costs, electricity costs and home fuel/propane costs escalating while taxes are also rising taking any slim margin out of their pockets. I am a farm girl, raised on a dairy farm, and am appalled at this error in political back scratching. I think you need to explain how a Hotel fits an Agricultural Loan from the Department of Agriculture? You need to be replaced by a farm person who has NOT forgotten ALL the consumers in the district and can read.

up. The fact of the matter is that she is, in the words of the arch conservative, Trump sycophant, and former U.S. Attorney General, William Barr, “detached from reality.”

And there surely are many like her, and it might seem politically correct if not overtly euphemistic to simply state that their minds are just “made up.”

But the fact is, as proffered by that great southern philosopher Forest Gump, that “stupid is as stupid does.”

Now, I don’t mean to denigrate anyone. Calling people stupid is totally unwoke. But I’m hard put to find a better

Car crash closes WACM

The World Awareness Children’s Museum on Warren St. in Glens Falls announced it will be temporarily closed due to damage from a car accident Saturday. They plan to reopen in a few days.

WACM posted photos of apparent damage to an exterior wall, window, and interior.

“Thankfully, no one was hurt during this incident, and our staff moved swiftly to ensure our visitors were safely escorted out of the museum,” WACM said.

“In the meantime, please visit World-ChildrensMuseum.org, our social media, or our YouTube page for fun virtual programming to tide you over while we deal with this serious matter,” they added.

explanation for people who repeatedly allow themselves to be the victims of lies and frauds and deceit. You know, “fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice, shame on me.”

Considering the moral implications, I think it better to simply call such people stupid rather than shameful.

What is more troubling than such close-minded derangement, such stupidity, however, is that these people shut their eyes to the fact that Donald Trump and his allies such as Stefanik pose, in the avowed of the conservative Republican appointed Judge, J. Michael Luttig, a “clear and present danger to American democracy.”

And, it is not just Republicans like Bill Barr or Judge Luttig who raise this alarm. All of the witnesses testifying to this threat before the Congressional January 6th House Select Committee have been Republicans, as well as members of Trump’s own inner circle, including family members and personal attorneys.

Yet, the best that the Chronicle can do is shrug its shoulders and say that people simply have their “mind’s made up” or that “they’re paying it no mind to begin with.” Shouldn’t the Chronicle have more responsibility to our democracy than that?

Isn’t the role of a constitutionally guaranteed free press in a democratic society to safeguard democracy? If there is a “clear and present danger to American democracy” isn’t it the responsibility of the Chronicle to expose it, and to enlighten its readers so that they may oppose it? Or, is the Chronicle among those who simply “have their minds made up?”

Luzerne-Hadley has lost the 3 restaurants in its center area work at UpRiver Cafe at night. Not this year. “If we had brought in foreign kids, they would have left,” said Mrs. Merlino, “because they wouldn’t have been able to find a second job in Lake Luzerne at night.”

Mrs. Merlino would love to see “a trolley that [comes] down into Lake Luzerne and brought these kids into Lake George to work the second job.”

She thinks all local businesses would benefit, listing horseback riding, white-water rafting, Huttopia campground, the rodeo, and Revolution Rail rail biking.

Mrs. Merlino said guests likewise miss UpRiver Cafe — “it was so well thought of.”

UpRiver’s owners, Chef Andrew Van Bourgondien and his wife Betsy Brandt, tried for several years without success to find a buyer for the restaurant. They closed UpRiver in 2020; the building was converted to a residence.

At nearby Waterhouse Restaurant, Dan Waterhouse said, “I’m out, thank God.” He said, “I’m 55. And it’s really a young guy’s game.”

Mr. Waterhouse said he sold the property to an LLC which is seeking to sell it again, packaged with the trailer park next door. He does not expect them to reopen it as a restaurant.

Staffing challenges became too much for him, Mr. Waterhouse said. “When you have to pay minimum wage of 15 bucks and you’ve got to pay a chef $20? Is he going to stay for 20 bucks?”

“That’s the real problem...guys that have skill and that your reputation is based on, what do you have to pay them if you’re paying the dishwasher $15 that you have to monitor all the time.

“Between that and the big chains are offering big bonuses to steal away employees... I couldn’t do it myself anymore.”

Mr. Waterhouse said of Lake Luzerne, “It’s hard to make money 12 months a year here. It’s easy to make money three months.”

“I still think it’s a great place to be,” he said. “I think a restaurant would do great right now, because the area is full of those Airbnbs...people are in town spending money, but when you don’t have the help to accommodate, it makes it very difficult.”

Incidentally, last year Mr. Waterhouse ran against long-time incumbent town supervisor Gene Merlino — Linda’s husband — in a heated race Mr. Merlino won.

Nettle Meadow’s new tasting room/eatery

On an up-note, Nettle Meadow Cheese has reopened the long dormant classic log Hitching Post restaurant, as its cheese-making facility with tasting room, bar and cafe, in Lake Vanare, a few miles up Route 9N from downtown Lake Luzerne.

Nettle Meadow co-owner Sheila Flanagan said, “We’re very lucky because we have the cheese plant as well. So if the restaurant has a terrible week, and the cheese plant has a great wholesale cheese week, then we’re balanced out.”

“If we were just a restaurant, oh my God, I don’t think that we could survive.”

Business is “not bad,” Ms. Flanagan said. “It’s a challenge because of rising prices every week. But we’re doing our best to try to keep things affordable for people.”

Nettle Meadow serves a lunch and dinner menu Thursday, Friday and Saturday noon to 8, brunch on Sunday 11 to 4,

Sweetie’s Cafe opening July 2: Breakfast/lunch

Sweetie’s Cafe plans to open in Hadley in the former 9 North Wood-Fired Pizza building serving breakfast 7-11 a.m., and lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. It will be a “donut and coffee shop, and we have breakfast sandwiches and a small breakfast menu to start,” owner Christy Holmes told The Chronicle. Its grand opening is slated for July 2 at 13 Park Ave. Ext, Hadley.

Their Facebook post said all proceeds from the grand opening will “go to benefit the Coulson family who tragically lost their home in a fire.”

and, on Wednesday, from noon to 8 p.m. cheese boards and light fare. They offer beer and wine.

Hours could expand over the summer, Ms. Flanagan said.

She said, “It’s a multiplicity of challenges for restaurants in Lake Luzerne. We don’t have a huge winter spring population in the area, and it’s a ways for people to travel from Queensbury, Lake George, Glens Falls, so we don’t get traffic every night from those larger metropolitan areas.

“And then I think COVID was huge. Because (a) people were afraid to eat out for good reason. And (b) it took away so much of our workforce and those people haven’t returned.

“And it is a tremendous, tremendous challenge to pay enough to keep people interested in coming back to work every week and keeping prices in the restaurant low enough to keep people coming back.”

Ms. Flanagan commented, “We’ve been very lucky, we’re almost fully staffed.” She said workers who are happy attract siblings to come work there too.

York's Department of Environmental Conservation, warned in a video of extreme conditions.

"Last year," he said in the video, "we had about 730,000 acres of defoliation that was mapped. This year, based on the reports we're getting from the public, and egg mass surveys that we completed over the winter, we're expecting this year to be another big year of defoliation."

The good news, said Mr. Cole in the video, is that "outbreaks usually only last two to three years, so we don't treat regularly because the outbreak will end on its own." He said "we can go 10 to 15 years in between" outbreaks.

"Spongy moth caterpillars eat young, tender leaves in the spring," DEC said.

"Deciduous trees (trees that lose their leaves each fall) can regrow a new set of leaves by July and can usually withstand 2-3 successive years of defoliation with-

But "defoliation does reduce the vigor and resistance of the tree, and it becomes more susceptible to pests and diseases," says the DEC. "In the short-term, the tree can use sugars stored in its roots." But "after multiple years or damage from

The insects formerly known as Gypsy Moths are now called Spongy Moths. The change is the first action of the Common Names Project, a new initiative of the Entomological Society of America, zoologists who study insects.

The group determined that "gypsy" is a derogatory word used in reference to Romani people — traditionally nomadic people of Romania, Ukraine, Spain and other European countries.

It said, "While the use of an ethnic slur is enough reason to stop using a common name, the former common name was doubly inappropriate in that it linked to a group of people who have been treated as pests and the targets of genocide with an invasive pest insect that remains targeted for population control and eradication, all of which combined to have lasting dehumanizing effects for Romani people."

In general, the Society said, "Problematic names perpetuate harm against people of various ethnicities and races, create an entomological and cultural environment that is unwelcoming and non-inclusive, disrupt communication and outreach, and counteract the very purpose of common names."

Potential issues the Society listed:

- Names that contain derogative terms
- Names for invasive species with inappropriate geographic references
- Names that inappropriately disregard what the insect might be called by native communities.

numbers get that high.
DEC’s website provides procedures for tree care in relation to the outbreak.
“When populations are low or when you have just a few trees you want to protect, spongy moth caterpillars and adults can be killed by squishing them.
“Egg masses can be destroyed by scraping them off trees or other structures and dropping them in a container of detergent.”

Prior to their summertime spread, “in late April, sticky/barrier bands may be placed around the tree’s trunk to catch caterpillars when they hatch and crawl. These bands can be bought or made at home using common household materials.”

But DEC warns, “if you choose to use a barrier band, please check it often in case unintended wildlife pass through, and replace as necessary after rain events.”

Insecticide use is their final suggestion. “If you are considering spraying, start planning in fall or winter as many of these services book up early. Various insecticides for spongy moths are available at garden centers.”

But Ms. Kubik notes risks. “Insecticides used for spongy moths are usually non-selective and will kill any insect that comes into contact with them, be it a spongy moth or a monarch butterfly or anything else.”

She said they “can impact many beneficial native insects” and that “a known impact of spongy moth-targeted insecticide” resulted in “killing bees in significant numbers.”

“Insecticides should be used only when necessary and very carefully,” Ms. Kubik urged. She said, “follow ALL pesticide label instructions.”

Mr. Cole said in the DEC video that the agency is combating the spongy moth in some places. “This year, we decided because last year was such a heavy defoliation year, that we couldn’t risk being defoliated again...”
“The aerial treatment that DEC is conducting this year is...on state forest land and state parks. Those areas were chosen because they contain high value ecosystems where rare, threatened or endangered animals and plants live and need that ecosystem to survive.....”

Spongy moth is an invasive species, says the Cornell College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, because it is “non-native” and has “the ability to cause harm to the environment, economy, and/or human health,” explained Ms. Kubik. She said invasives “usually have...high reproductive rates and a lack of natural enemies that allows them to act invasively.”

The moth was actually brought here initially, Mr. Cole says in the video. He Queensbury High School's 70th annual commencement ceremony is Friday, June 24, at 7 p.m. at Cool Insuring Arena. No tickets required.

The two student speakers, chosen after a school "speech-off," are Kayrena Meyers and Rachel Beth Mannix.

The Ceremony includes a bagpipe procession of the faculty and staff, presentation of the class gift, and performance by the combined band and orchestra with the Madrigals Select Chorus.

The 70th commencement will be the last graduation ceremony for retiring staff members Kevin Sullivan, Karen Bauer and Damian Switzer.

Qby.'s Top 10

Queensbury does not name a Valedictorian or Salutatorian.

Here are the Top 10 students, in order of class rank, with their post-graduation plans and their answers to the school's question, 'What will you miss most about Queensbury High School?' or 'What's the most important lesson you've learned at Queensbury?'

Julia Afsar-Keshmiri, daughter of Corissa and Armin Afsar-Keshmiri, will attend Hamilton College to major in Neuroscience, and to run Cross Country and Track. "I will definitely miss my friends and teachers at QHS the most."

Isabella Wroblewski, daughter of Stephanie and Ron Mattia, and Jeff Wroblewski, will attend New York University to major in Mathematics, "but I will possibly add a double major or minor."

The one thing I will miss the most about QHS is orchestra.

Rachel Beth Mannix, daughter of Beth and Dan Mannix, will attend Boston University, to major in Film and Television with a minor in French and possibly journalism.

I'll miss my friends and teachers the most because they always pushed me to be better and get out of my comfort zone. The amazing connections I have fostered are what have made high school so great.

Lauren Nelson, daughter of Jessica and Chris Nelson, plans to major in Civil Engineering at University of Vermont.

The greatest lesson I've learned as a student at QHS is to gain different perspectives so you can appreciate life experiences. Without perspective, it is easy to get stressed when you are challenged, and forget the importance of the little things in life. I remember my orchestra teacher Mr. Verheyen telling this, and it resonated with me. Mr. Verheyen gave a lot of useful advice that I will apply throughout my life. Recently, he stated that, "Everything in life is like chamber orchestra." Without his perspective and advice, I would've easily forgotten the importance and purpose of playing an instrument (viola).

Jack Sturman, son of Kathy and Edward Sturman, will attend the University of Toronto, to major in Political Science.

I will miss the Nordic Ski team the most — especially the snowball fights!

Lindsay Bauer, daughter of Julie and William Bauer, will attend Cornell University to major in Plant Sciences.

The thing I will miss most about Queensbury is the friends I have made throughout the years. They have made high school such an enjoyable experience. Even though we head in different directions after graduation, I know we will keep in touch.

Madeline MacEachron, daughter of Michelle and Scott MacEachron, will attend Boston College to major in Applied Psychology and Human Development. I will miss my 'school' friends — all the people you see on a daily basis that simply make your day better!

Kathryn McDermott, daughter of Karen and Brian McDermott, will attend Hamilton College, major undecided.

The one thing I will miss most about QHS is the people.

John "Jack" Hicks, son of Noelle Stevens and James Hicks, will attend Stony Brook University for Environmental Studies, and to run Division 1 Cross Country/Track and Field. I will miss my classmates and teachers the most! I've made so many great memories here and met so many amazing people.

Kate Allen, daughter of Renee and Chris Allen, will attend Coastal Carolina University to major in Physical Education.

I will miss the relationships I formed with the Physical Education staff at QHS! They were always super supportive of me and I always felt like it was a second home.

Best wishes to all the Queensbury graduates!

B16 Reorganize and more

There are many activities that I do to relax. One way that I unwind is by organizing my room. I like to organize my room because I like to change it up here and there. It makes me feel good because I get alone time and peace and quiet.

My second favorite activity to relax myself is to go scootering up and down our quiet road. I go with friends. It makes me feel good because I love to go very fast down hills.

My third favorite activity is to jump on the trampoline, and to lay on it. I like to jump on my trampoline because I can learn new tricks, think about what to do after, dance, lay in the sun, jump rope, hula hoop, and hang out with my friends, listen to music, do flips and more .

My final favorite way to relax is to go draw. I love to sketch and draw because I can let my imagination go wild. It relaxes me. I like to take things from real life and draw them.

There are many activities that I do, but those are the four things that I do to relax myself the most.

Winter Feldt
Gr. 4, Mrs. Blanchard
North Warren Central School

Movie & popcorn for one

How do you relax? I relax by getting a pillow, blanket and the remote. I watch a movie and I make popcorn. I relax and I go to sleep and have some good dreams. You can go on the swings and relax and be calm, or you can color too.

Roman Pratt
Gr. 3, Mrs. K. Nassivera
Hudson Falls Primary School

Read to baby Jack

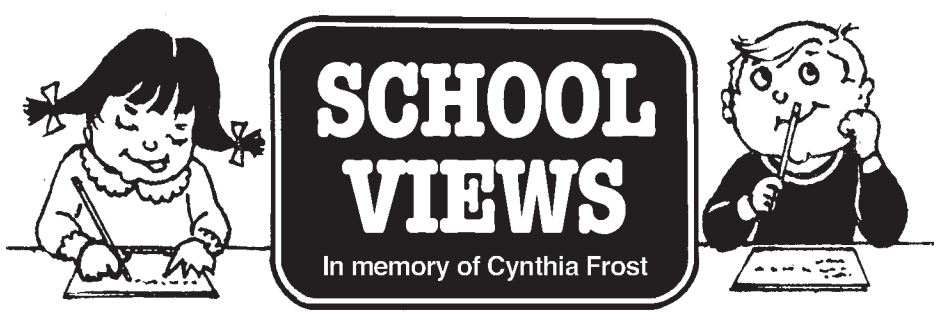

My favorite things to do to relax is sitting next to my baby brother Jack reading to him, or sitting on the couch watching TV. This is my favorite thing because my couch is comfy, and also because I like reading to Jack and watching TV.

I read to baby Jack in my mom and step-dad's room, where baby Jack's bed is.

When Jack is in his bed or mom's holding him so he's next to me, I get a clean book and sit on mom and my step-dad's bed and start reading to him. He likes whenever I read to him because it makes him fall asleep. I also like reading to him because I like reading.

I like sitting on my couch watching TV because my couch is comfy. It's light tan, puffy and big. It takes up a lot of space in the living room. We have a big TV that is in front of it. I usually watch YouTube or Disney Plus on it, and I have my nice soft pink blanket that goes over me.

What is your favorite thing to do to relax?

From South Glens Falls: Mr. Purvis, Nicolette Quick & Mrs. Mattison

Lost in a book

My favorite thing to do to relax is to get lost in a good book. I like this because I can just stay in a world where nothing is as stressful as it is in my life. When I go into the world of a book I feel like I have space to think. This helps me work through any stress that I have.

Reading a good book helps distract me from the real world. Whenever something upsets me I can always relax by reading a book.

My favorite book to read when I am stressed is The Hunger Games. This is my favorite because I can connect with the characters and because it is very interesting and is overall fun to read. Another reason that I like this book is because it is easy to get lost in it. This is because it is easy to think you are really a character facing the same problems as the main characters.

Three things

I have three ways I like to relax. One of them is to grab some snacks, an interesting book and to lay in bed and read the book. Another way is by watching any kind of movie and to lay in bed watching it. The last way I like to relax is by watching the fireplace burn in my living room with my family. Those are the three ways I like to relax.

Annie Baldwin
Gr. 4, Mr. Purvis/Mrs. Mattison
Harrison Ave. Elem. School, SGF

Dog diaries

My favorite thing to do to relax is to go outside on my deck and eat watermelon while reading Dog Diaries by James Patterson. Especially when it's SUPER SUNNY! Then I go off with my dog Edelweiss and we climb on our tree fort, and then do adventure time. It's when we run into the woods and write stuff really cool in my journal. Then we come back and I play on my tablet.

Jerusha Rush
Gr. 2, Mrs. Zibro
Hadley-Luzerne Central School

Four-wheeling

My favorite way to relax is to ride my Gramp's four-wheeler. I like the wind blowing in my face and the fresh air. I like bumping up and down. That massages your body. This is why it is my favorite thing to do to relax.

Keaton Washington
Gr. 4, Mrs. Paddock
Whitehall Elementary School

A good book

My favorite thing to do to relax is reading a long chapter book, I like The Diary of a Wimpy Kid. Right now I am reading Diary of a Wimpy Kid Old School. Another thing I like to do to relax is take a hot shower.
