Rolling Thunder!

By Ben Westcott
Chronicle Staff Writer

The Adirondack Thunder of the East Coast Hockey League are rolling. As of Tuesday, the team had won six games in a row and boasted a 22-8 record, good for second in the ECHL Eastern Conference standings.

Near the halfway point of the home schedule, Jeff Mead, general manager of the Cool Insuring Arena and president of business operations for the Thunder, said the team has sold over 1,500 season tickets, "well ahead of where we've ever been."

"That's about 100 more than last year," Mr. Mead noted. "It's trending to be our best season ever in terms of ticket sales."

Back to back games over New Year's Eve weekend were sold out.

Hockey team hot; crowds flock; Cool Arena is thriving

"Our on-ice play certainly helps," Mr. Mead said. "But I think it's a fun place to go to now. I think we do a very good job of entertaining our fans. We do have a very passionate fan base, but we also have what we call a casual fan, who just comes to three, four or five games a year. They like hockey, but they don't necessarily live and die by our win-loss record. They want to go there for a social event and be entertained. Our production team does a very good job of entertaining our fans, which
