Next at former Sutton's

By Cathy DeDe
 Chronicle Managing Editor

After two years of repairs and renovation, Mario DiSiena says, "We're ready to go" with his restaurant on Route 9 where most recently Farmstead Flatbread operated at the former Sutton's Market Place.

The 174-seat "Uncle Mario's Garage" is on the agendas next week of the Queensbury Planning Board and Zoning Board of Appeals.

Mr. DiSiena said he grew up next to his family's now-defunct DiSiena Furniture in Mechanicville. He owns The Furniture House, which he

Youths on bikes incidents resume

By Cathy DeDe
 Chronicle Managing Editor

We're hearing again about aggressive groups of youths on bicycles disrupting traffic and assailing drivers, among other acts, similar to last summer — the uptick perhaps driven by the return of warm weather.

The alleged incidents occurred in Glens Falls and Queensbury.

A man who identified himself but asked that his name not be published contacted The Chronicle on Tuesday, April 9. He said he was headed from South Glens Falls north to the Glens Falls Roundabout when "I saw just a flock of them...it's hard to count but it was well over a dozen, like up to 16 of them. People were honking their horns because they were literally riding next to them. And then they would just like cut out in front of a car. "There was one guy coming straight at me. He was riding down the middle and then

County could make much better use of $1-million than Jos. Warren Museum

To the editor,

In response to the Warren County Board of Supervisors' curious decision to squander 1 million dollars on an obscure political figure from a century no one was around for.

Is this really the best we can do? For 1 million dollars they could have started a fund to subsidize worker housing for the hundreds of seasonal workers that flood our area. They could

Jos. Warren Museum is 'tangible' gain vs. 'smoke & mirrors' Winter's Dream

Thank you Mark for [The Chronicle's] filing the FOIL request regarding Winter's Dream and making that endeavor transparent.

Clever to post it in the front of the paper with the proposed Joseph Warren Museum project near the end of the paper. Two completely different opposing uses for the occupancy taxes.

One is built on fantasy and "ideas" and fingers crossed that

Elise Stefanik: Loved 'Scoop' about eclipse; experienced totality at Adk. Sky Center in Tupper Lake

Mark,

Love the front page scoop on the eclipse. I also was stunned by how neat totality was. I was in Tupper Lake with the Adirondack Sky Center which I visited a few years ago to support the organization. It was founded by a corrections officer 26 years ago who is an amateur astronomer
