What killed the birds

By Cathy DeDe

Chronicle Managing Editor

"Necropsy results indicated that collision and associated blunt force trauma was the likely cause of mortality" of approximately 20 cedar waxwings found dead at Crandall Library on May 4, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation said Tuesday in response to further Chronicle inquiries.

"A DEC Environmental Conservation Police Officer collected samples for examination and

Whitehead: Yes, raise the sale tax

To the Editor:

For nearly a decade now I have been the only person to attend the Public hearings and question the Queensbury tax increases so it might come as a surprise to hear that I support the efforts of Wash-
