Mosers plan Athletic Center at former Nautilus

By Zander Frost
Chronicle Staff Writer

Bob and Lisa Moser, area natives who have made a fortune owning self-storage units, have purchased the former Adirondack Nautilus building at 91 Glenwood Avenue in Queensbury and are planning "to make it an indoor athletic center for kids," Mr. Moser tells The Chronicle.

Local couple made fortune in self-storage

"We have unbelievable athletes coming out of this area and this will provide them a place to train, and a safe area. They can bring their trainer if they want. It'll be just a great facility."

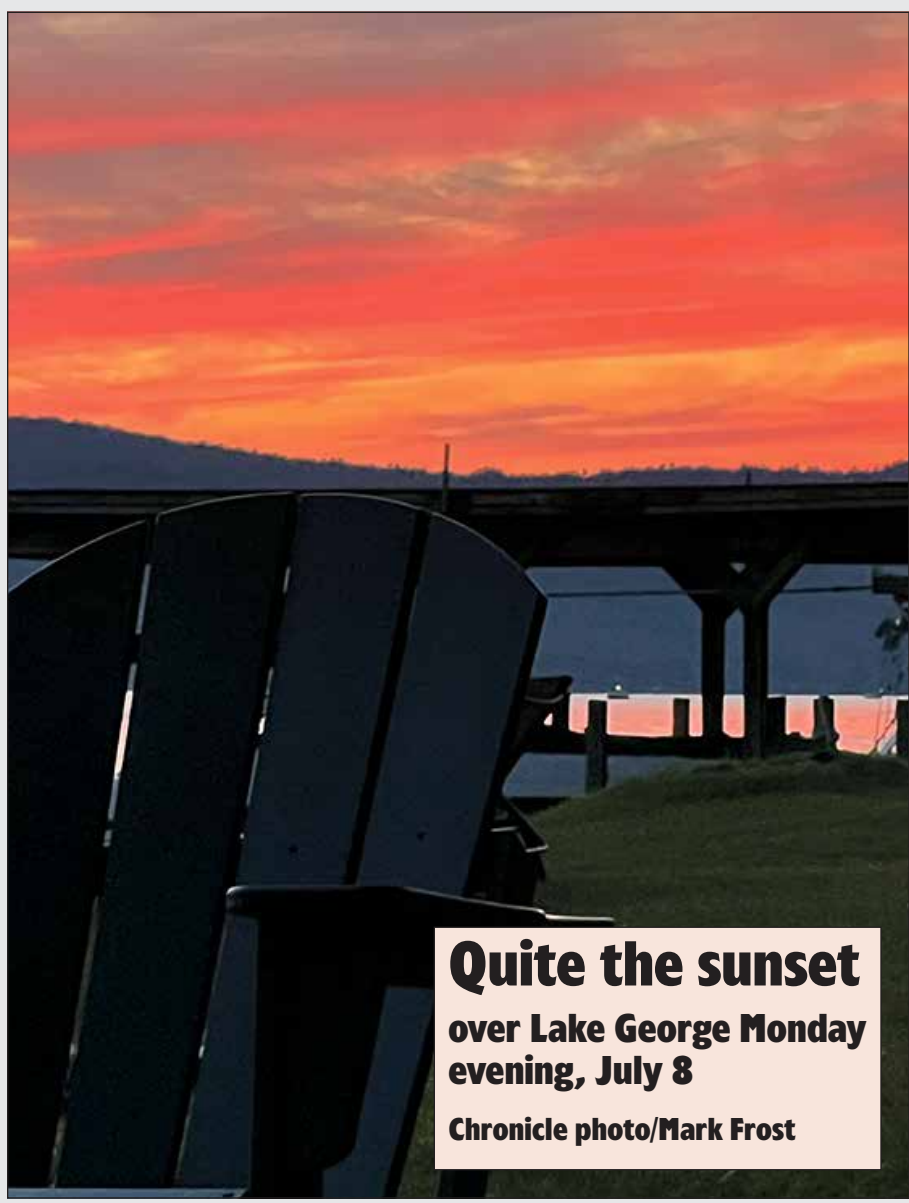

The Mosers, who live in Greenfield Center, are local. She went to Hudson Falls High School and Siena College. He went to Queensbury High and

Q&A: Biden stay or go?

By Mark Frost
Chronicle Editor

Our weekly question posed to digital subscribers last week was: Do you think Joe Biden will be the Democratic Presidential nominee? If not, who do you think it will be or should be?

I honestly don't see how Biden can remain in the race at this point. It is painfully obvious that he no longer has the vigor to hold the most important job in the world. I would personally love to see Mark Kelly as the Democratic nominee. A tough veteran from a swing state may win over a few independents and moderate republicans who are tired of Trump.

No; he will decide to withdraw gracefully with his reputation intact and his accomplishments honored. Kamala Harris will be

Urges: Instead of trying to save old LG events, create new ones

To the Editor:

I'd like to write a response to your [June 27] article "Plea from LG events: We need help!" I think we need to look at things that are different from past years. Has anyone heard of "Jeep Beach" in Daytona? Lake George Park is in the Adirondack Mountains & Jeeps? Hmmm. There is a connection! People with Jeeps take pride in their Jeeps and
