Some urge 'Get tougher' with 'day spenders'

By Ben Westcott
Chronicle Staff Writer

The public was invited to weigh in at the Oct. 24 meeting of the Day User Task Force Committee.

Drew Gerster said he moved to Glens Falls from Buffalo two years ago and that he had been "a homeless drug addict for 10 years" throughout New York before he "got out of it himself."

He said, "Nothing's being done" to fix the situation at Centennial Circle and that he sees what goes on there because he works at Domino's or Bowled seven days a week.

"I'm not impressed at all," he said, citing "lack of community action."

"I've had to go out of my businesses five times in the past year to give CPR," Mr. Gerster said.

"I had somebody die in my hands. I just had somebody three weeks ago puke blood all over my shirt. I've pulled six inch blades, I've pulled machetes out of homeless people, right in the circle."

"For the past two days, I've gone out there cleaning up the
